CORE Will Protest At Demo Meet

Washington (UPI) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy Wednesday called on Democratic Party platform writers to condemn racial lawlessness by both whites and Negroes in the field of civil rights.

But Negro leader James Farmer said his followers would stage "direct action" demonstrations — pickets — at the Democratic National Convention next week to protest "the Goldwaterism found in both parties."

Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), told the Platform Committee that such "constant public reminders" are needed for the nation to face racial problems and serve also "as a way to channel the justifiable frustrations and anger of the Negro community."

CORE pickets marched outside the Sheraton Park Hotel while Farmer was making his prepared statement.

'Insistence on Law'

Kennedy, who spoke just before Farmer, called for an "insistence on law — with a clear reaffirmation of our belief that lawless disregard for the rights of others is wrong when it is used to deny civil rights and that it is wrong when it is used to obtain civil rights."

Farmer said the Atlantic City convention next week "will be the scene of direct action" by civil rights marchers.

"Citizens are coming from all over the nation as witnesses to the tragedy of the Northern ghetto, as witnesses to the horror of Southern inhumanity and legalized brutality," he said.

Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), Farmer, and other Negro leaders met earlier in the day with President Johnson.

Wilkins urged the Platform Committee later to pledge vigorous enforcement of the new civil rights law and said failure to do so would be tragic.

Hails Passage

Kennedy hailed congressional passage of the civil rights law as "a historic advance" and said that "respect for all law must be insured and enhanced."

Of the current strife, the brother of the late president told the platform panel: "We are weakened by cruel and senseless acts of racial violence, whether by whites against Negroes or, more recently, by Negroes against whites.

"The blow may be to a Negro or a white man, but the injury is suffered by the whole country. Discrimination and hatred eat at the root of society. They turn all men, black and white, into prisoners of their prejudices," Kennedy said.

He recalled that the late President Kennedy and President Johnson have worked with leaders of business, labor and other segments of the economy in working toward cooperation on civil rights.

Power Unit Okays New OPPD Plant

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

The Nebraska Power Review Board Wednesday approved construction of a $31 million, 200,000-kilowatt generation unit by the Omaha Public Power District.

The unit, largest in the state, will be on the line by May 1, 1968.

In other action, the board approved a compromise million dollar construction program which will serve the needs of Norris Public Power District until 1967.

Interconnections

The compromise negotiated by Norris and Consumers Public Power District includes some interconnection between the two agencies and wheeling agreements whereby one agency will carry power for the other.

Power Board Chairman William Norton of Osceola hailed the settlement as "most commendable" and told representatives of the two districts that the board hopes further agreements between the two will be forthcoming, particularly in the field of retail service area boundaries.

Service area disputes between Norris and Consumers are scheduled to be heard by the board Sept. 22.

Good Example

Norton said the construction agreement provides "a good example of what the Power Review Board can accomplish. It justifies its existence."

Norris originally applied to construct 226 miles of 34.5-kilovolt sub-transmission line in Lancaster, Gage, Saline, Jefferson and Thayer Counties at a cost of $1,580,000. CPPD objected, citing six specific examples of alleged duplication of transmission lines.

The compromise plan provides for about 160 miles of construction by Norris, in addition to the interconnection and carrier agreements.

The board and both districts agreed to allow Norris to delay construction of several proposed lines approved by the board as long as they are completed within 36 months.

OPPD's new giant generation unit will be constructed at its North Omaha Station to meet the district's load requirements through 1969. No agencies objected to the proposal.

With the new unit in operation, OPPD expects a power surplus of 52,000 kilowatts in 1968, which will be offered for sale to the Nebraska Public Power System.

Purchasing

NPPS is now purchasing 8,000-KW, OPPD Assistant General Manager Jack Wilkins told the board.

OPPD expects a surplus of 49,000-KW in 1965 from its present generating capacity, 24,000-KW in 1966, and 4,000-KW in 1967.

Norton said he hoped OPPD would "give some consideration to plans outside the OPPD area within Nebraska" so that generation construction may be staggered and Nebraska's power supply pooled. Wilkins said OPPD is "willing to cooperate."

Assistant to the Manager Frank Wolf told the board the district "hope(s) to announce a rate reduction this fall."

Texan Facing Counts

Charges of armed robbery and assault with intent to kill, wound or maim will be filed against a 42-year-old Texan in connection with the holdup at the GAC Finance Corp. and shooting of a Lincoln police detective.

Robert Barrow of Corpus Christi has signed a 19-page statement about the incidents, County Atty. Paul Douglas reported Wednesday, and will be arraigned as soon as hospital officials release him, probably Thursday morning.

Barrow suffered knee injuries and a broken bone in his hand, Douglas said.

Charged

Mrs. Lidia R. Veliz, 21, of Corpus Christi, was charged with being an accomplice to the felony charge of robbery Wednesday in County Court. She was bound over to District Court under $5,000 bond.

Douglas said that Mrs. Veliz admitting knowing in advance of Barrow's plan to rob the GAC firm and remained in the car while Barrow went into the finance company and held employes at gunpoint, taking a reported $195.

After the robbery, Douglas said, Barrow gave Mrs. Veliz the money. It was later recovered from her purse after she was stopped near Gretna by Lincoln Police Sgt. Glen Lyman.

Admitted

Douglas said Mrs. Veliz had also signed a statement admitting her part in the robbery.

Barrow suffered injuries in the fight and shooting at the Sharon Motel where he was captured Tuesday.

Barrow's statement detailed the robbery and the shooting of Lincoln Police Detective Lyle Bigley at the motel.

Satisfactory

Bigley is in satisfactory condition following surgery to remove a .22 cal. bullet from his chin. Bigley was shot by Barrow when he went to the motel room where the pair had registered as man and wife.

Mrs. Veliz escaped during the scuffle and before two other Lincoln policemen arrived and subdued Barrow.

According to the statements, Douglas said, the couple had arrived in Lincoln Sunday afternoon and stayed at another motel before registering Tuesday at the Sharon.

Douglas said he had contacted Mrs. Veliz' husband in Corpus Christi and the man said he would come to Lincoln to help his wife.

Barrow admitted two robbery convictions prior to the Tuesday holdup and told officials that he was on parole from Texas.

Turks, Greece To Send Back Forces To NATO

Ankara, Turkey (AP)—Turkey and Greece announced Wednesday they are returning military units to the Atlantic alliance that were withdrawn when the two neighbors seemed on the brink of war over Cyprus.

Capitals of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization had feared that the two NATO nations would come to blows and shatter the eastern flank of the West's defense line against Soviet aggression.

Turkey was the first to announce that air units withdrawn from NATO during air raids on Greek Cypriots on the northwest coast of Cyprus Aug. 8-9, were returned to control of the alliance.

A factor in Turkey's decision was the Greek Cypriot government agreement to permit food, water and fuel to go through to Turkish Cypriots blockaded by Greek Cypriots.

'We Will Also'

After an emergency meeting with King Constantine, Premier George Papandreou of Greece announced in Athens: "Since Turkey returned her forces to NATO control we will also return them."

Greece announced Monday it was withdrawing various air, army and naval units from NATO control to defend Cyprus against a Turkish threat of aggression.

Greece also had announced it was withdrawing its detachment from NATO's southeast land forces headquarters at Izmir, Turkey. Papandreou did not say whether the detachment would return to Izmir. Some of the 150 Greek officers there are already home and others are on the way by ship.

NATO's supreme headquarters in Paris has appealed to Greece to keep its officers at Izmir.

In the eastern Mediterranean, NATO has maintained a standing strength of 14 Turkish and nine Greek divisions, plus 1,000 Turkish, Greek and Italian planes.

Supplies Moving

U.N. headquarters at Nicosia reported food, water and cooking fuel began moving into Ktima, where 3,000 Turkish Cypriots had been isolated by a Greek Cypriot blockade.

A U.N. spokesman said water, vegetables, fruit and bottled gas began moving Wednesday morning into the town. No incidents were reported.

Teamsters Take Hoffa To Court

Washington (AP)—Nearly 500 Teamsters Union members went to court against Teamsters' President James R. Hoffa Wednesday in the first open sign of large scale rank-and-file revolt since Hoffa's two federal court convictions.

The large group of Teamsters from nine locals filed a petition asking to join a suit already on file, seeking recovery of all union funds spent to defend Hoffa and all other union officials involved in criminal trials.

The civil suit was filed several months ago by six members of Philadelphia Local 107.

It charges violation of a federal labor law provision requiring that union funds be spent solely for the benefit of the union.

Kevin P. Charles, attorney for the larger group, said both groups seek to oust Hoffa but that his clients feel their action would help move the case a little faster and indicate broader support within the union.

Meanwhile, the Teamsters' ruling Executive Board convened in Miami for the first time since Hoffa's jury tampering and fraud convictions and is expected to take up the question of Hoffa's mounting legal fees.

Little Faster

Attorneys in the suit filed here have estimated some $3 million in union funds may be involved in legal fees paid out for Hoffa and a number of other union officials in the past several years. Some sources say Hoffa's bills alone amount to about $1 million.

Despite this and other signs of anti-Hoffa rumblings from within the Executive Board, Hoffa has continued to maintain the union is solidly behind him and that reports to the contrary are invented by the press.

But, he said he would voluntarily stop using union funds to pay his legal bills until the board settles the matter.

Goldwater Cites TV 'Warning'

. . . WANTS DEBATE, WILL PAY

Springfield, Ill. (UPI)—Sen. Barry M. Goldwater charged Wednesday that President Johnson gave the communists nearly two hours' advance warning and shattered the element of surprise by announcing over television that U. S. planes were flying against North Vietnamese bases.

The republican presidential nominee also announced, "I'm willing to pay for the time" if the President will debate campaign issues with him, presumably over television in 1960 Kennedy-Nixon style.

Goldwater was the star speaker before a sun-baked crowd of 15,000 at "Republican Day" festivities at the Illinois State Fair. The fair is a traditional showcase of major political candidates during campaign years and Goldwater made the most of it in boosting his own candidacy and that of GOP gubernatorial candidate Charles H. Percy.

Far-Ranging Attack

His speech was a far-ranging attack on the Johnson administration record and zeroed in on the President's Aug. 4 announcement over nationwide television that U.S. naval aircraft was on its way to bomb bases in North Viet Nam in retaliation for PT boat attacks on American destroyers.

"I cannot imagine a Republican president . . . warning the communists in advance of an action such as that recently taken in response to the attack on our ships in the Gulf of Tonkin," Goldwater said.

"The President gave the warning by going on national television when a maximum audience was still available, but when our naval aircraft was still on the way to their targets," he said.

"In that time — which amounted to nearly two hours warning in advance of the arrival of our first planes over their targets — the enemy could have had time to prepare their defenses.

"Certainly, the element of surprise was shattered by the advance warning. Certainly the safety of our airmen was not the primary concern of such an advance warning.

One Life Lost

"We lost two planes in the action. One good American life was lost. Another airman was delivered into communist captivity. The fact remains that we gave the enemy time in which they could have better prepared the defenses that shot down our planes."

Although Goldwater has supported the President's action in ordering the air strike, he said, "I cannot imagine . . . a Republican president who would have let our policies in such an area become so confused that the enemy would even have risked such an attack in the first place; much less repeat it."

"The administration has shown little skill when negotiating with the communists," he said. "Now it appears they have as little skill when fighting with the communists."

He twitted the administration's "civilian generals, such as Field Marshal McNamara" (Defense Secretary Robert McNamara) and said they "take full credit for this remarkable strategy of warning our enemy that our planes are on the way."

Willing To Pay

"I am willing to debate—and I am willing to pay for the time," he said. In apparent reference to the Senate's refusal Tuesday to pass legislation clearing the way for a televised debate, Goldwater said, "I can understand why this administration doesn't want to talk about it and why its leader won't debate it."

Goldwater said that for the time being "we are secure in the armament of a strategic arsenal inherited from the administration of Dwight Eisenhower." But he charged that "under this administration, with its utter disregard for strategic aircraft and for new, major strategic weapons systems, our deliverable nuclear capacity could be cut down by 90% in the next decade."

In the chartered airliner which brought him from Washington, Goldwater showed newsmen tabular material which he said backed up his charge.

Goldwater said his table was based on Pentagon statements of April 14 and Aug. 11 and on related newspaper articles. He said it showed the deliverable megatonnage by bombers and missiles now totals 28,570, but that it would slide to 1,656 in 1970, assuming the nation has an all-missile force.

Goldwater followed tradition by visiting the tomb of Abraham Lincoln, the nation's first Republican president, and by rubbing the nose of a bust of Lincoln. According to Illinois superstition, rubbing Lincoln's nose brings luck.

Goldwater Threatened By Caller

Washington (UPI)—A telephoned threat to kill Republican presidential candidate Barry M. Goldwater caused authorities to divert Goldwater's plane to an alternate airport Wednesday as he returned here from an Illinois campaign speech.

The Arizona senator's chartered four-engine Electra was to have landed at National Airport, just across the Potomac from Washington, on the return trip from the Illinois State Fair at Springfield. But it was ordered to land at Dulles Airport about 30 miles from the capital.

Justice Department sources said the telephone call was made to the Springfield Police Department by a man who identified himself as a "Lt. Bruce Allen."

Exchange

The exchange between the caller and Springfield Police Sgt. John Nolan went like this, the source said:

Caller: "They are going to hit (underworld slang for kill) and shoot Goldwater between 3:30 and 4 this afternoon."

Nolan: "Who?"

Caller: "Puerto Ricans."

When Nolan asked where the call was from, the connection was broken. He said he had heard an operator asking that $1.75 be inserted in the coin box before the conversation began, however.

Authorities were reasonably satisfied the call was made from Chicago after checking the telephone tolls between there and Springfield in downstate Illinois.

Springfield Police Chief Silver Suarez said the call was made at 12:52 p.m. (CDT), (1:52 p.m. EDT), a short time before Goldwater was to leave for Washington. Aksed if the senator's staff knew about the threat before leaving, he said, "They should have."

A series of telephone calls to the FBI and Federal Aviation Agency officials here who are in charge of National and Dulles Airports, resulted in the change of airports.

Salt-Wahoo To Halt Expansion

. . . EXCEPT FOR INCLUSION OF ASHLAND PRECINCT

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

The Salt-Wahoo Watershed District Wednesday closed the door to expansion of its boundaries beyond the addition of the Ashland precinct.

In a "definite policy" resolution, the board said, "Further expansion of this district, except for the inclusion of the Ashland precinct, is not necessary to present objectives of the district."

Ashland has petitioned for inclusion in the watershed district and an annexation election has been set for Nov. 3.

The district now includes Lancaster County and parts of Butler, Seward, Saline and Cass counties.

When the district was organized in 1960, voters of Seward County rejected inclusion in the district.

As to tributaries entering the district, except for Wahoo Creek and its tributaries, the board said its policy would be "to fully cooperate with agencies outside the district's boundaries in carrying out coordinated flood control programs . . . consistent with the district's program of total watershed resource development."

To Assist

The adopted policy also proposed "to assist other agencies . . . in flood control and soil and water conservation when such assistance is consistent with the best interests of the taxpayers of this district."

Since 1960, the Salt-Wahoo district in cooperation with the Corps of Engineers and other agencies has completed 13 flood control dams, has several others in process, and is undertaking extensive channel improvements to Salt Creek.

The board noted the "non-federal costs of these projects" have been borne by the taxpayers of the present district.

Jurisdiction

Board discussion indicated that the Ashland precinct abuts Salt Creek and would extend the district's jurisdiction for the channel to the mouth of the Platte.

A move that would have included 10 square miles abutting Clear Creek, a tributary of Wahoo Creek, was recently rejected after public hearing before the Lancaster County Commissioners.

In other action, the board approved an agreement with Consumers Public Power District for the relocation of power lines in connection with Salt Creek channel improvements through Lincoln. Relocation costs are estimated at $70,000, of which a maximum of $21,493.38 will be paid by the district under the agreement.

Resolution

Also approved was a resolution authorizing co-sponsorship of the North Oak Creek Watershed in Butler and Saunders Counties and participation in planning for the area in Lancaster County. A similar move was recently approved for the North Oak Creek watershed.

Other action:

—approved an easement to the City of Lincoln for construction of the P Street sewage lift station at Salt Creek on district property.

—were advised that 12 dams remain to be constructed in the Upper Salt soil conservation project and nine can be gotten underway when sites are acquired by the district.

LBJ's Wealth Called 'Incredibly Low'

. . . REPUBLICAN CHIEF DOESN'T SUGGEST WRONGDOING

Washington (UPI)—Republican National Chairman Dean Burch said Wednesday that the estimated $3.4 million net wealth of President Johnson and his family was "incredibly low."

"It is peculiar that the bulk of his fortune was made in areas subject to federal control," he added.

At a news conference, the national chairman said Johnson must be "the greatest free enterpriser in the world" to have amassed this fortune while drawing a salary slightly over $12,000 a year since he entered public service in 1931.

Burch's figure for Johnson's salary was an average for the president's 23 years of public service.

At the same time Burch charged the Democrats with "homicide in the truest sense" for having killed Tuesday night any chance of television debates between Johnson and GOP presidential candidate Barry M. Goldwater.

Told How To Vote?

Burch charged that "the Democrats obviously were directed to vote against the bill" in the Senate by President Johnson. He pointed out that the decision to table the bill came a short time after the leadership conference at the White House.

Burch challenged the Democrats to split the costs of televised debates. He said Goldwater would be happy to pay one-half the cost of as many televised debates "as the President can stand."

He said that the cost of a 30-minute program on one network would be $125,000.

The new national chairman said the Democrats did a great disservice to the American people by killing any possibility of televised debate which would have reached millions of people. At the same time, Burch said, "I can see President Johnson's desires on this point, having seen him on TV."

Regarding the Johnson family finances, Burch said Johnson's method of listing his assets was unique. He likened it to listing Manhattan at $24.

The chairman noted that everything in the Johnson statement was listed at cost rather than value. "I don't believe the figures I have seen so far make any sense," he said.

He refused to be drawn into suggestions that Johnson was guilty of wrongdoing, but added, "The issue is that a public official must not only avoid evil but also the appearance of evil."

Burch withheld a decision whether the Republicans will make a big campaign issue out of Johnson's financial statement. But he did say that if it became an issue it would be whether a public official should deal in areas where he could be open to avenues of influence.

Burch also revealed that Goldwater will begin his active campaigning for the presidency in the West and in the week following his kick-off at Prescott, Ariz., the GOP candidate will move into California, Washington and Minnesota.

Burch said he expected Goldwater to support Sen. Kenneth B. Keating if he won the Republican nomination for the Senate from New York, but hedged on whether the Arizona senator would back Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce if she ran on the conservative ticket.

In answer to a question, he said, "In theory Goldwater has said he wants Republicans elected. Keating is a Republican."

Burch also said he was hopeful that Keating, who disassociated himself from Goldwater, would within the next two weeks change his position.

Johnson Family Fortune $3.4 Million

. . . DAUGHTERS RICHER THAN DAD

Washington (AP) — The fortune of President Johnson and his family totals $3,484,098 and has more than quadrupled in the past 10 years, according to a detailed accounting made public Wednesday at his direction.

The national accounting firm of Haskins & Sells, acting on orders from Johnson, distributed to newsmen results of an audit of the family's books conducted during the past six weeks.

Although the $3.5 million value placed on the Johnson holdings by Haskins & Sells was far below some published estimates, which have ranged as high as $14 million, the higher estimates were not necessarily incorrect.

Haskins & Sells did not attempt to estimate the current market value of the Johnson properties. Its figures were based on a more conservative approach which it said was "in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles."

Likely To Continue

Thus guessing and speculation about the value of the Johnson holdings seems likely to continue.

These are some of the highlights of the report by the accountants:

—Since Jan. 1, 1954, the family's worth has increased from $737,730 to nearly $3.5 million.

—Mrs. Johnson is the richest member of the family with holdings valued by the accountants at $2,126,298.

—The Johnson daughters, 20-year-old Linda Bird and 17-year-old Luci Baines, are richer than their father. Linda's net worth was put at $490,141 and Luci's at $489,578. The President's worth was listed as $378,081.

—During the past 10 years Mrs. Johnson's salary as an official of a Texas broadcasting company exceeded her husband's salary and expense allowances, as senator, vice president, and as president. Her salary was $570,856 while his salary and expense allowances totalled $409,730. The report noted that Mrs. Johnson resigned as an officer and director of the company last Jan. 1.

—Donations by the Johnsons in the 1954-64 period to religious, charitable and educational organizations totalled $178,578. During the same period, they paid $365,965 in federal income taxes.

Major Debt

—The President and the First Lady have one major debt. They owe $150,000 to Texas Christian University. They borrowed the money in 1961 when they bought a half interest in the 4,560-acre Haywood Ranch in Texas from the school for $250,000.

—The family's major interest is in the Texas Broadcasting Corp. which operates radio and television stations in Austin, Tex., and owns partial interests in television and radio facilities in Waco, Bryan, and Victoria, Tex., and Ardmore, Okla. The value of the Johnson's broadcasting properties was listed as $2,543,838.

The auditors came up with this valuation largely by totalling the initial cost of the Johnson investment in the broadcasting firm — $24,850 — and accumulated earnings of the company, then deducting minimal income taxes the Johnsons would have to pay if they sold their interest.

The accounting report also showed that the Texas Broadcasting Corp. has insured the lives of the President and Mrs. Johnson for $545,000. These policies have a cash surrender value of $63,666.

Most of the other Johnson holdings are in the form of real estate, largely in Texas.

RUBY CITED COMPASSION FOR JACKIE

New York (AP)—Jack Ruby has told the Warren Commission that his compassion for Mrs. John F. Kennedy led him to shoot her husband's accused assassin, Lee Harvey Oswald.

The New York Journal-American in publishing under copyright a 102-page transcript of a three-hour interrogation of Ruby by Chief Justice Earl Warren in Dallas last June 7, under the byline of columnist Dorothy Kilgallen. She said she obtained the transcript "through sources close to the commission in Washington."

In Wednesday's second installment of the transcript, Ruby is quoted as saying of the slaying of Oswald on Sunday, Nov. 24:

"Of why that Sunday morning—that thought never entered my mind prior to that Sunday morning when I took it upon myself to try to be a martyr or some screwball, you might say.

"But I felt very emotional and very carried away from (sic) Mrs. Kennedy, what with all the strife she had gone through—I had been following it pretty well—that someone owed it to our beloved President that she shouldn't be expected to come back to face trial of this heinous crime. And I have never had a chance to tell that, to back it up, to prove it. Consequently I am being victimized as part of a plot in the world's worst tragedy and crime at this moment."

Single, Fatal Bullet

Oswald, formally accused of the Nov. 22 assassination of President Kennedy, was slain two days later during a routine jail transfer. Ruby stepped from a crowd of newsmen and onlookers at the Dallas Police Headquarters and pumped a single, fatal bullet into him.

In the transcript, Justice Warren repeatedly asked Ruby if he knew Oswald prior to the shooting. After some rambling replies, Ruby is quoted as saying:

"I never knew Lee Harvey Oswald. The first time I ever have seen him was the time in the assembly room when they brought him out, when he had some sort of shiner on his eye."

Ruby mingled with newsmen during a confrontation with Oswald in the assembly room of police headquarters on the night of Nov. 22, a few hours after the assassination. During the trial, police testimony depicted Ruby as deciding that night to kill Oswald because "I just want the world to know that Jews have guts."

Ruby is quoted as telling the commission that on the Sunday morning Oswald was slain he read in a Dallas newspaper an open letter of sympathy to President Kennedy's daughter, Caroline.

"The most heartbreaking letter," Ruby continued. "I don't remember the contents . . . and alongside that letter on the same sheet of paper was a small comment in the newspaper that—I don't know how it was stated—that Mrs. Kennedy may have to come back for the trial of Lee Harvey Oswald.

'Caused Me To Go'

"The last thing I read was that Mrs. Kennedy may have to come back to Dallas for the trial of Lee Harvey Oswald, and I don't know what bug got hold of me. I don't know what it is, but I am going to tell the truth, word for word.

"I am taking a pill called predulin. It is a harmless pill . . . I use it for dieting . . . I think that was a stimulus to give me an emotional feeling that suddenly I felt—which was so stupid—that I wanted to show my love for our faith, being of the Jewish faith, and I never used the term and I don't want to go into that—suddenly the feeling, the emotional feeling came within me that someone owed this debt to our beloved President to save her the ordeal of coming back."

Ruby made a trip to Havana in 1959 shortly after Fidel Castro's revolutionaries took over the island. In the transcript he explained it as simply a vacation trip to visit a friend, who had sent him an airplane ticket.

NFO Starts Withholding Of Livestock

... Nebraska Among States Involved

By JACK DONOVAN

Des Moines, Iowa (AP)—The National Farmers Organization said Wednesday its members would start immediately withholding meat animals—cattle, hogs and sheep—from the market place in 23 states from the Rock Mountains to the east coast.

The farm organization urged nonmembers to join the NFO and the holding action in an attempt to raise the sagging prices farmers are paid for livestock.

Two years ago the NFO engaged in its first widespread holding action. That action lasted 33 days and was carried out in 15 states.

"This holding action will be by far the greatest show of bargaining power that American farmers that ever made," said Oren Lee Staley of Rea, Mo., NFO president.

"We are prepared for a long holding action," he said in an interview. "Farmers are making the decision whether they want to continue taking the punishment at the market place with more low prices or whether they want to start pricing their products themselves at fair prices."

The minimum prices the NFO is seeking are the same as two years ago: $32.45 a hundredweight for choice graded beef cattle weighing 900 to 1,000 pounds; $22.75 a hundredweight for No. 1 and 2 graded as weighing 190 to 210 pounds, and $29.45 a hundredweight for sheep.

In Chicago — one of the top midwest livestock markets—cattle sold Wednesday at $24.00 to $26.00, butcher hogs topped at $17.50 and sheep went at $20.00-25.00.

The last time that hogs brought as much as the NFO is seeking was in the summer of 1950.

Since the 1962 holding action, hog prices have dipped to around $14.00 a hundredweight and cattle sold for $20.50 a hundredweight last May.

The latest holding action was called in Iowa, Illinois, Minnesota, Missouri, Wisconsin, Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky, Nebraska, Kansas, North and South Dakota, Michigan, Tennessee, Colorado, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Idaho, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Wyoming and West Virginia.

The immediate effect on the American housewife's food budget resulting from the NFO action could not be determined at once.

The NFO aim is to sign processors to contracts which guarantee a steady flow of livestock to market and assure the farmer a fair price for his product.

State Share $16 Million For Interstate

Washington (AP) — Nebraska will receive more than $16 million in Interstate Highway funds in the fiscal year starting July 1, 1965.

The money is part of an apportionment of $3.8 billion announced by the Commerce Department among the states to continue the national highway program.

The exact Nebraska figure is $16,313,500.

The apportionment includes $2.8 billion for the 41,000 mile Interstate system, scheduled for construction in 1972.

The remaining $1 billion is for so-called ABC program which involves the construction and repair of primary and secondary systems and their urban extensions.

Under the ABC category, Nebraska gets $15,320,015.

When completed the Interstate system will comprise slightly more than one per cent of the total U.S. road and street mileage and will carry over 20% of the nation's traffic. Nearly 17,000 miles of the system now are open to the public.

Action Bigger This Time, Says Lancaster Head

Malcolm (UPI) — Elmer Beckman, a Malcolm farmer and Lancaster County NFO chairman, said the 23-state holding action "is a lot bigger than last time when we almost made it work."

He said a series of meetings is being conducted by the NFO across the state for purposes of explaining the holding action. "This time we are getting down to the precinct level and we are going to seek to have closer contact between NFO leaders and members," he said.

Beckman added: "The last time we tried it (holding livestock off the market), some of the farmers got cold feet and started unloading. There also were a lot of cattle brought up from the South, which you ordinarily don't see. This helped the processors."

He predicted the holding action's impact will start becoming noticeable about Friday.

Cass Fair Off To Start With Keen Competition

By DAVE HENDRICKSON
Outstate Nebraska Bureau

Weeping Water—Watermelon feeding, tractor competing, and horse appreciating all highlighted the 4-H activity Wednesday at the Cass County Fair at Weeping Water.

While registration and preparation for the three busy fair days to follow was a major order of business of the day, 4-H activity dominated the proceedings.

A tractor driving contest in the early afternoon was the first scheduled event. Only six boys competed, but enough spectators crowded the sidelines to enliven competitive interest.

About 100 youngsters exhibiting livestock at the fair took part in a watermelon feed in mid-afternoon.

Judging of 4-H light horses came next. All sizes and sexes were exhibited, and about the same variety of youngsters showed them off. Of the 78 horses registered for the competition, only two failed to enter—because of sickness.

The youngsters and their horses were judged in three classes: performance, and junior and senior horsemanship; junior and senior "pleasure"; and "pleasure" ponies.

'Best Entries Ever'

There was also some judging Wednesday of cakes, pies, breads and other foods made by 4-H girls. The pie entries, which numbered about 40, were termed "the best I've ever seen" by Mrs. Bernie Camp, Lincoln home economist.

An open horse show at Memorial Field in the evening closed the day's activities. The show featured the youngsters who won the 4-H light horse judging, and also the sheriff's posse from Lincoln.

Ex-York Girl, 5, Drowns In Pool

York — Relatives here received word that Wendy Sanmann, 5, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Sanmann of Montrose, Colo., former York residents, lost her life by drowning in the Montrose municipal swimming pool.

The family had just moved to Montrose from York a week ago.

Surviving in addition to her parents are four sisters; one brother; and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Sanmann and Mrs. Rosietta Swanson, all of York.

$30,805 Due For Forest Highways

Washington (AP) — Nebraska will receive $30,805 under an apportionment of $33 million among 41 states and Puerto Rico for improvement of national forest highways.

Secretary of Commerce Luther Hodges said Wednesday the money is for use in the fiscal year beginning next July 1.

Washington (UPI) — The Agriculture and Interior Departments jointly announced that 22 job corps camps being set up as part of the administrations war on poverty will begin accepting trainees in October.

Harms Stresses Church Mission

Seward—The northern Nebraska District of the Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod, meeting in convention at Seward emphasized the mission of the church in its sessions Wednesday.

Dr. Oliver Harms, president of the synod, told the delegates "the people are harder to get into the church today." Pointing out that "every single Christian must consider himself a committee of one to go to the unchurched," Dr. Harms said we must bring the message of the gospel to all people.

"God gave himself for us," Dr. Harms challenged the convention. "What can and should we do for him?"

The 58,000 member district sponsors and supports 25 mission congregations in northern Nebraska and Wyoming. Student centers are maintained at Laramie, Wyo., and Lincoln, Neb., by the district. Work in hospitals and institutions also is directed by the mission board of the district in Norfolk and Omaha.

Collision At Lexington Kills Trio

Lexington (AP)—Three persons were killed and two injured Wednesday afternoon in an accident about five miles west of Lexington.

Those killed were Ernest M. Sprague, 67, of North Platte and Ray Laverne Spencer, 75, and his wife, Pearl, 69, of rural Gibbon.

Injured were Mrs. Sprague and the driver of the second car involved, R. A. West of Lewood, Kan. Both were reported in serious condition with undetermined injuries.

Mrs. Sprague was in the front seat of the first car, which was driven by her husband.

Highway Patrolman N. O. Plantz said the crash occurred at the intersection of U.S. 30 and the Darr road which leads to the Interstate Highway.

Plantz said those killed were the driver and two passengers in a car which was northbound and turning off the county road.

The deaths raised Nebraska's 1964 traffic fatality toll to 245, compared with 199 on Aug. 19 last year.

Lincoln And West Lincoln

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Liquor by the drink in West Lincoln was a matter to be decided at election by the West Lincoln voters and they have now made their decision. By a thin margin, the proposal was defeated. Lincoln itself could not have dictated this outcome but surely the City of Lincoln had an interest in the matter since the two areas are side by side.

It would have been unfortunate for West Lincoln to adopt a liquor-by-the-drink program and thus introduce into the area a new social situation. It would have been unfortunate because it would have represented a decision by fewer than 200 voters affecting the lives of thousands of voters within the City of Lincoln. When and if the existing absence of liquor by the drink, on a public basis, is ever changed, it is hoped that the decision is made by the people of Lincoln rather than forced on them by others.

Lincoln's Own Decision

As was said, the West Lincoln people could not be told what to do but their election did reflect a proper relationship with their larger neighbor. Perhaps the voters of West Lincoln did not especially consider the issue in this light but such is still the situation as it now stands. The liquor vote in West Lincoln should be an encouragement to improved relationships in many areas between that village and Lincoln proper.

As to Lincoln and liquor, the outcome would probably be about the same as it was in West Lincoln. The liquor situation in Lincoln continues to be a farce. There is liquor in enough forms to do away with any benefits that might accompany its complete absence but we lack those forms that would be of greatest economic benefit and convenience to the community.

A more fundamental and important question than liquor is housing and this question has been placed before the people in a series of articles by The Star's City Hall Reporter Virgil Falloon. The articles have attempted to outline the housing situation in Lincoln as it exists in those areas of public and government concern. Basically, this is the low-income housing area where the health and safety of citizens come into the picture. The city is not too concerned over housing for people who, for instance, make $5,000 a year. It is assumed that they can find adequate quarters and even if the cost of their housing might be out of line, this is not a matter of public or government concern.

The government of the City of Lincoln has no part to play in a situation where the price of housing is more than might be considered proper. If a landlord can get $200 a month for two rooms, that is his business. If a three or four-bedroom home can be rented for $500 a month, which it cannot, that would be the business of the landlord and the renter. Also, if the most plush quarters in town rented for $30 a month, which also isn't the case, that would be the business of no public agency. But if those plush quarters would happen to have everything but inside plumbing, then that would be a matter of interest to the city.

The economic facts are not really primary in the housing situation. It just happens that the housing problem is always directly related to economics. The problems in housing that are of public concern just happen to assert themselves in the low-income areas, thus bringing about a relationship that is not always fully understood.

What the city is concerned with is that a man, because of low income, not be forced to live with his wife and children in quarters that promote ill health, immorality and perhaps even death by accident. This, it seems, is a basic humanitarian consideration that ought to find objection from no one.

Yet, objection is found and it can generally be associated with money. People owning housing which is below the minimum standards for good health and safety do not want to be forced to upgrade this housing because it would cost them money. Some of this housing is so poor that it could not be upgraded and would simply have to be abandoned if it were made to meet the minimum standards. But left alone its owner can realize a profit from rental of the property because there is too little adequate housing in this low-income area of the community.

Very Limited Choice

One answer would be more low-income housing. Lincoln builders are trying to provide this but their program hinges on the federal government loan guarantees which, in turn hinge on the city's applying to all housing its minimum standards housing ordinance. It would seem that the city has a primary responsibility in this area that it has yet not met.

Humphrey-McCarthy Are Friendly Rivals

WASHINGTON — An emissary from Sen. Hubert Humphrey, senior senator from Minnesota, recently approached Eugene McCarthy, junior senator from Minnesota, to suggest that Gene step aside in the race for President Johnson's running-mate.

"Where do you want me to step?" replied McCarthy. "If I go to the White House and tell Johnson 'I'm out of the running,' he's going to say, 'Who said your were in the running?'

"Just explain where and how you want me to step."

This highlights the fact that the two senators from Minnesota are among the highest on the long list of those available for the Democratic vice presidential nomination. In fact, both are so "available" that they have hired public relations firms.

Humphrey has retained Ruder and Finn, which has adopted the strategy of pushing him hard as the man with the most experience, the most knowledge, the most campaign fire. McCarthy is using White, Herzog and Nee, which has adopted the opposite strategy. Their advice is that McCarthy can't compete with the senior senator from Minnesota in publicity, therefore he should play it coy. Probably the advice given to both is correct.

Despite their rivalry, Humphrey and McCarthy remain very good friends. The two senators, incidentally, are extremely able, very dedicated men, both close to President Johnson. But each has some political soft spots.

☆ ☆ ☆

The public doesnt know it, but McCarthy happens to be the one Senate liberal who has consistently voted for the big oil companies. Time after time when his Democratic colleagues, Sens. Paul Douglas, Ill., and Joe Clark, Pa., would stage their annual battle to knock out the 27½ per cent depletion allowance oil-and-gas loophole, McCarthy would line up on the other side.

Once he simply remained in the Senate restaurant, refusing to come up to vote.

McCarthy worked with the liberals on almost everything except oil and gas. And, since he occupies a strategic post on the Senate Finance Committee which votes on taxes, it has been assumed that he got this coveted place only after an advance pledge of loyalty to the oil and gas politicians.

☆ ☆ ☆

Sen. Humphrey's weak spot is diametrically opposite. He's in the doghouse with Southerners who like McCarthy—chiefly because Humphrey precipitated a southern walkout by delivering a fiery civil rights speech at the 1948 convention. The big issue was whether the Southerners would agree in advance to support the Democratis ticket.

JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

To Your Good Health

Dear Dr. Molner: Please explain the difference between "edema" and dropsy." Causes? Cures, if any? — EVE.

Dropsy and edema mean the same thing. Edema is the word commonly in use now, but dropsy is still heard occasionally.

Dr. Molner

Edema is an abornmal accumulation of fluid in the body, especially in the tissues. Dropsy was derived from the Greek word "hydrops," from "hydor," water.

Causes vary, but at the top of the list is faulty circulation of the blood, and this includes heart disease. If the heart can't pump quite as strongly as it should, the circulation suffers.

Kidney failure also can cause edema, and so can glandular disturbances. The use of steroid drugs can cause edema, too.

Some older people, as their circulation slows down, either because of blood vessel degeneration or some heart deficiency or both, notice that their ankles get thick and puffy. This is edema. The circulation isn't brisk enough to carry all of the fluids in the tissues back to the heart, lungs and kidneys for purification.

Edema may be noticeable, but not so soon as a rule in the other extremities: Hands and arms. It likewise can be present in the abdomen, and in the tissues of the lungs.

Patients who have to spend extended time flat in bed suffer from this accumulation of fluid in the back and buttocks. Gravity naturally lets the fluid gather in the lower part of the body — the feet, legs and ankles if you are upright, and the back if you are lying down.

Treatments for edema vary. Where the heart and circulation are involved, diuretics are often used. But if something can be done to stimulate the heart, that is a more basic treatment, of course. Or, these days, in the right cases heart surgery may be the answer.

If kidney disease is the cause, then the prime consideration is correcting that condition, naturally.

In the case of both the kidneys and the heart, getting rid of the excess fluid also makes it easier for these important organs to continue serving their functions—and as (or if) they improve, the amount of edema likewise lessens.

Some people mistakenly think, since edema is an excess of fluid in the tissues, that they can help the condition by not drinking as much water. This is a serious error. The body still needs a reasonable daily intake of water to help clear away the wastes that accumulate.

☆ ☆ ☆

Dear Dr. Molner: Should one use the same pair of rubber gloves for washing dishes as well as other household chores, including painting? The paint is labeled "do not take internally." — S. L. B.

There's no danger if you wash the gloves with soap and water between different chores, just as you'd wash your hands after painting and before doing the dishes.

☆ ☆ ☆

Note to Mrs. J. F.: "Gold salts," or injection of chemicals containing gold, have not been discarded as an arthritis treatment. They help some patients, not others. Whether to continue them or resort to aspirin is something that can be decided, in your case, only by you and your physician.

☆ ☆ ☆

Dear Dr. Molner: What is the law requiring that citizens be inoculated before they re-enter the country from trips abroad? Many oldsters may have suffered greatly from these "shots." It doesn't make sense to me that people going to England, France, Germany, Austria, Switzerland, etc., must be inoculated. Such countries have the highest standards of hygiene and sanitation. Why not eliminate top countries from this law? — H. H.

This preventive is aimed at smallpox, which over the centuries has been the most widespread of all the deadly plagues.

The U.S. has been almost free of smallpox for a quarter of a century now, but let it be brought into this country and it will spread, because people have become ignorantly complacent. They think that because they had a vaccination in grade school they are safe. We know better from the number of "takes" when we revaccinate older people.

Sanitation has nothing to do with this. The countries you name have had smallpox outbreaks, and recently, and we don't want it here if it can be prevented. This can be done by demanding proof of an acceptable vaccination for everybody entering this country.

Having a vaccination may be a nuisance, may make a sore spot for a time, but people don't suffer greatly from it.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Where Is The Evil?

Controversy seems to be building up in regard to the personal wealth of President Lyndon B. Johnson. With one major national magazine reporting this wealth at $14 million, an audit ordered by the President of his position showed that wealth, at book value, to be less than $4 million.

It would seem safe to assume that the true figure is somewhere between $4 million and $14 million, as the book value showed by the audit would not be as high as the market value of the Johnson family holdings. But even if the $14 million figure were right, of what significance is it?

The chairman of the Republican National Committee has said it seems strange that so much of the Johnson wealth was acquired in operations involving or coming under federal control. The reference here was to Texas television holdings which would be influenced from time to time by action of the Federal Communications Commission.

Yet, the indictment remains unclear. If the President and his family have acquired wealth in a manner that is wrong, then those who know this should make such information known. But to throw out unfounded suspicions such as the GOP national chairman has done is nothing less than a sneaky political trick.

The GOP nominee is not exactly a poor man but his wealth has not as yet been among those things for which his opponents criticize him. If even the rapid acquisition of wealth is to serve as an indictment of the individual, then we indict the free enterprise system in which we take such pride. President Johnson's financial position is not and should not be made a campaign issue unless it represents a lack of ethics, a situation that does not seem to exist.

Australia's Response

Australia has been and still is our very good friend.

But that did not prevent its prime minister, Robert Menzies, from writing a stiff letter to President Johnson on the subject of our Congress' action in regard to imported beef and lamb.

The Congress passed the law which would enable the President to shut off meat imports when they exceeded 6.5 per cent of American production. The intent of the law scrapped the voluntary agreement between the U.S. State Department in which Australia accepted an export quota less than the 11 per cent figure of last year, but greater than 6.5 per cent.

Menzies letter made it clear that Australia stood ready to shut out American tobacco, cigarets, cotton and farm machinery in the same number of dollars the application of the U.S. law cost the Australian meat industry. He also indicated that the law ran counter to U.S. aims toward a more free flow of goods between countries and challenged U.S. leadership in that area.

Assuming that Mr. Menzies means what he says, it quickly becomes clear that the new law may help the American meat producer but at the expense of the American manufacturer and cotton grower and this, of course was not the intent of Congress. If the Australian attitude is adopted by other nations the U.S. case for more free movement of goods between nations could be stymied. And since America is a major producer of exportable items it can be the most seriously hurt.

We trust that the matter will be worked out at a less damaging level. But there is a reminder in it that we are dealing with sovereign nations and are not the headquarters of a great worldwide empire where our decisions are law. No one has to mind us and we are not big enough to make them.

The Increasing Attacks

The other day, a friend, a gentle, high-minded person handed us a paper back book given to him by an acquaintance. It was a vicious piece of character assassination directed at the President of the United States. Our opinion of the book was solicited.

It is doubtful that the book will sway many votes and certainly the Republican party would not countenance it as a piece of campaign literature. But, nevertheless, it is in circulation.

The American people should take warning from the increasing attacks on their most precious institutions, the supreme court, the Constitution, the presidents and the nation's high-minded world posture. These are the things that have made this country great. If we allow our well justified faith in them to be destroyed we are well on the way to destroying ourselves.

The record of American history fails to reveal one example of an evil president. To the contrary the popular selection of a national Chief Magistrate has presented the country with an unbroken succession of excellent leaders, well disposed, each striving in his own way for a better and more perfect country. Indeed, the record shows that all presidents have been ennobled by their great responsibilities. And God help us if this ever changes.

The normal course of our democracy, the freedom of the press and the other safeguards have unfailingly operated to eliminate the blackguard, the would-be tyrant or the fool at the lowest level of public service.

It is a serious thing to attack the faith of the American people and to destroy the precious value of the institutions we have always held dear. It is not an action against the person in high place, but against America. America is a human institution and of itself it can only be as immortal as its ideals. Let us continue our faith in it.

Let The Children Handle Money At An Early Age

NEW YORK—It is amazing what 2.9-year-old boys can get away with.

Like, take ours. Our son has a thing about money. He loves it; loves to spend it, squirrel it away in airplanes, steal it from bureaus, build towers with it. He cannot pass any machine with a slot in it, whether the slot renders cigarettes, coffee or bubble gum. And if someone is kindly enough to ask what he wants for Christmas, Independence or Groundhog Day, he usually replies, "Money, please."

One would think he was a budding miser and/or wastrel except for his quirk—he rejects folding money, deals only in change. Oh, when he finds a five-dollar bill lying around a wallet, he doesn't exactly sneer at it. He uses it as gift paper to wrap up thimbles and slightly used cough drops to give to the boy next door.

But he doesn't seem to see the value of folding money, as compared to such solid objects as quarters which, he has observed happily, can produce a pleasant clunking sound when inserted through the grillwork on a city pavement.

Well, he doesn't get as much money as he used to from his parents, I can tell you. He must now depend on neighbors, grandparents, friends, mailmen, the baby-sitter and the doorman—all of whom still seem to think he's precocious enough to warrant a nickel. They'll learn.

☆ ☆ ☆

Meantime, I have learned (from checking through some old child-guidance articles I collected in the days when this heir to the piggy bank was only a challenging dream) that we may have been doing the right thing in letting him play with small change. Too many American children, says an epistle from "Today's Health," the AMA medical magazine, grow up "money-blind."

They never learn the value of money because they never learn to handle it, personally.

If a family buys everything for a child, even a very young one, or feels it's not "nice" to talk about money with him, he is likely to grow up sweet and idealistic — and broke.

"Children should learn the economic ABC's during their pre-school years if they're to have a realistic view of money," claims the writer, Flora Rheta Schreiber.

At the age of three, in fact, the child should be taken to the store and occasionally allowed to hand the cashier the money for a purchase. (Ours has been handing cashiers, and everybody else, money since he was two. He once even tried to give a traffic cop in a patrol car money, which is in bad taste.)

"A child, by the age of four, should be ready to spend his very own money," Miss Schreiber continues. "He should begin receiving a regular weekly allowance at that age. Your child needs a supply of money just as he needs playthings, pencils, crayons and books. And he needs it even before he is capable of using it."

"In this way, he learns to manage money, and he learns self-reliance and how to make decisions."

Great Society

Lincoln, Neb.

People being what they are, quick answers even if wrong seem preferable to the grim realities of life. To elaborate: President Johnson says that "government at its best liberates man." This is completely false. Government at its best is composed of men, not gods, some good, some bad, and they're usually concerned more with expediency than with virtue in government. That's government at its best, nothing more, nothing less.

President Johnson seems to feel that America should have a "Great Society" and that he, LBJ, should inaugurate this "Great Society."

This isn't a new idea, no matter what the "long, tall Texan" tells us. In fact, it has been the endless aim of innumerable men ever since Adam partook of the apple. At any rate, in our troubled times they are many, many people who feel that government should be the basis of our "Great Society" but as I said before, this is an impossibility because they are men, normal men.

One couldn't expect to build a "Great Society" with men like Bobby Baker and Billy Sol, who are something other than great, at the very least.

The Morrisons

Lincoln, Neb.

In reply to a Burney fan's question of "What Do We Want In The Way Of A Governor?" (Lincoln Star, August 11), we want just what we have, a sincere, dedicated, devoted Governor Frank Morrison and his equally sincere, devoted and charming wife, both of whom have brought nothing but pride and credit to the State of Nebraska.

We want to retain a governor who does not hesitate to walk among the people and inquire of their needs. We want to retain a governor who recognizes the need to expand and promote the economy and beauty of the State of Nebraska, both locally and abroad. We want to retain a First Lady who epitomizes the very best in American womanhood. We want to retain, in the words of a Burney fan, a governor who will go any place, go any time, do anything, so long as it will benefit the citizens of the State of Nebraska.

We will get what we want when we re-elect our Governor Morrison and continue to permit him and his ever-charming wife to help bring out the very best in Nebraska.

HERBERT L. ROSENBERG

Lincoln, Neb.

After reading about some of the Republican attacks on Governor Morrison, I feel compelled to say that this state is fortunate to have such a capable and hard-working chief executive who has initiated scores of excellent programs.

We are indeed lucky to have a governor who is both progressive and prudent.

I am glad that Mr. Morrison is willing to assume again the arduous and often thankless task of being governor of this great state.

GRATEFUL CONSTITUENT

BOB CONSIDINE

On The Choice Of A Vice-President

NEW YORK—My exclusive prediction is that the Democrats are going to nominate Lyndon B. Johnson for president next week at Atlantic City. Keep this in strictest confidence.

In so doing, they will be making a bum guesser out of him. Only six years ago, when asked if he would be a candidate for the presidential nomination in 1960, LBJ snorted:

"I don't think anybody from the South will be nominated in my lifetime. If so, I don't think he will be elected."

☆ ☆ ☆

The only contest at Atlantic City, of course, will be over the vice presidential role. It will probably turn out that there won't be any contest at all, really. The President will indicate his choice to party leaders and the delegates will follow his bidding as obediently as the GOP delegates voted for Bill Miller when the word bolted down to the Cow Palace from Goldwater headquarters high on, or vice versa, Nob Hill.

The President has scratched a number of his clan's most talented veep prospects, apparently in an effort to avert a Convention Hall clatter for Robert Kennedy, a man he wants to keep in the Party but as far from the seat of power as is possible. It is conceivable that the President may have cause to regret his unprecedented early dismissal of such a wealth of vice presidential timber.

But he has been around the political arena for a long time, has shrewdly weathered tremendous storms, probably knows very well what he's doing.

Eight vice presidents succeeded to the presidency via the death of the man ahead of them, Tyler, Fillmore, Andrew Johnson, Arthur, Teddy Roosevelt, Coolidge, Truman and Johnson. Three more made it on their own: John Adams, Thomas Jefferson and Van Buren. Thus it is hardly the position of despair that Adams pictured when he wrote:

"My country has in its wisdom conceived for me the most insignificant office that ever the invention of man contrived . . ."

LIFE BEGINS AT FORTY:

Reduction Of Fat Intake May Prevent Heart Attack

By ROBERT PETERSON

It has taken a long time but the American Heart Association has issued a mid-summer 1964 announcement which starts off with this paragraph:

"The public was advised today to reduce fat consumption as a possible means of decreasing the risk of heart attacks and strokes."

The announcement interests me because four years ago a friend of mine had a heart attack and was ordered to reduce to a minimum all fats in his diet. Upon checking I found this to be standard medical advice for persons who have suffered heart and circulatory attacks.

It seemed that if reduction of fat intake was sound advice for a person who had suffered a heart attack, it was also sound advice for the average person seeking to avoid such an attack. So I drafted a column to that effect.

To check its accuracy I asked an official of the American Heart Association to read the draft. He branded as "naive and illogical" my conclusion that dietary advice given a heart attack victim had any significance for the public at large. So I killed the column.

Perhaps mounting evidence has finally convinced the association of fat's possible role in heart disease. Or perhaps officials have concluded that dietary advice for heart attack victims does indeed have logical significance for those eager to avoid such attacks.

Out in Indiana the State Commission on the Aging judges paintings by senior artists and hangs the best ones monthly in offices of state officials. Decorating the sanctum sanctorum of Gov. Matthew E. Welsh the past month has been a handsome landscape by Mrs. Queen D. Franklin, 73, who took up painting 10 years ago.

Mrs. Franklin must have been repressing a rare, rich talent those first six decades for since taking brush in hand she's had three one-man shows, has won a blue ribbon for a painting at the Indiana State Fair, and has sold more than half of the 200 plus paintings she has done to date.

☆ ☆ ☆

This column continues to hear from folks who dislike geriatric labels such as "golden ager" and "senior citizen." Even "oldster" is unpopular with some, as witness these lines from a testy reader: "I hate that word 'oldster!' It sounds too much like hamster, prankster and gangster. Another word on my late list is retirement—which sounds too much like interment."

There's a prevailing assumption that widows, divorcees and spinsters who go on cruises are ready to pounce on any unmarried male aboard. But veteran traveler Larry Schloss writes, "This is utter nonsense, as can be verified by any single man who has done much traveling.

"He may strut around the ship like a peacock, stopping to admire his incomparable image in every mirror. But most of the ladies on board couldn't care less. They are aware that any male on the loose must have very little to offer and takes vain delight in hoping women will throw themselves at his feet. And smart women are not about to make fools of themselves by cooperating."

If you would like a list of "Some Low Cost Trips Around the World" write to this column c/o The Lincoln Star enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 10 cents to cover handling costs.

Opinion Reported On Collections In Criminal Actions

The attorney general's office Wednesday released an opinion answering a series of questions from State Auditor Ray C. Johnson regarding collections from counties in criminal cases for the Nebraska Retirement Fund for Judges.

Johnson was advised that if the fine and costs are laid out in jail, the court should collect the $1 retirement fee from the county. It should also do so in a criminal case where a bond is declared forfeited, the opinion said.

In connection with the obtaining of a search warrant, a proceeding is not commenced within the meaning of the retirement act and no fee is chargeable, the attorney general said.

When the bond has been forfeited in a criminal case, court costs cannot be deducted from the bond, the opinion said, adding that in such instances the entire penalty is solely for the benefit of the common schools in the subdivisions in which the penalty accrues.

Appeal Filed For Trio In Telephone Station Burglary

Pierre, S.D. (UPI)—Attorneys for a South Sioux City, Neb., man have filed a notice of appeal with the South Dakota Supreme Court.

George Donald McCreary, and two other persons, are appealing a Roberts County circuit court conviction on a charge of burglarizing a telephone pay station.

McCreary and a California couple, Malcolm and Jeannine Morrison, were sentenced to six years in prison by Circuit Judge Frank Tait of Milbank last month.

Libya Population Up

Tripoli (AP) —Preliminary results of an Aug. 1 census put Libya's population at 1,559,399 persons, the government said. A 1954 census gave the population figure as just under 1,250,000.

Soviet Spacemen Hint At New Flight

Moscow (UPI) — Cosmonauts Andrian Nikolayev and Pavel Popovich hinted Wednesday at a space spectacular involving several Soviet spacemen in a cosmic link-up this month.

August is "the month of cosmic starts," the spacemen said in a joint article in the Air Force's Journal describing their tandem flight just over two years ago.

That flight, they said, was a step toward solving the "cardinal problem" of a space rendezvous.

They said that in 1962 Soviet space scientists were able only to orbit two manned capsules in close proximity. Now they have developed automatic satellites capable of in-flight maneuvering, they added.

This technique may now be used with several manned spaceships finally to effect a link-up, the cosmonauts hinted. But they revealed nothing else.

Their remarks followed by a day the launching of three scientific satellites "Cosmos 38," "Cosmos 39" and "Cosmos 40" by a single carrier rocket of a "new type."

These probes were the latest in a cluster of scientific launches such as those that preceded the team flight of the world's first spacewoman, Valentina Tereshkova, and cosmonaut Valery Bykovsky last summer.

"We are dreaming of new flight," said Popovich and Nikolayev.

'Protection Good' In Salt-Wahoo Dist.

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

The Corps of Engineer dams and channel improvements in the 704-square-mile Salt-Wahoo Watershed District will give "a high degree of flood protection."

However, Norman Gau of the Omaha District said Wednesday the flood control plan "is not absolutely perfect."

"The perfect plan is not economically feasible," he added. "Approximately 30 per cent of the land area within the district is controlled by flood structures."

"This is a high degree of protection," he said, "but flooding in uncontrolled areas is still possible" from rainfall of rare frequency and magnitude.

Map Overlays

Gau showed map overlays of such rare storms and their possible effect in the watershed, explaining how controlled area would be protected while uncontrolled area might expect some flooding.

Hal Schroeder, Salt-Wahoo's general manager, said, "Flood plain studies of Lincoln and rural areas that could still be subject to flooding are being made."

"It is hoped the city (Lincoln) will be able to regulate these areas where urban development would be unwise."

"The flood control structures shouldn't lull us into a false security," he said. "There will be certain areas under a peculiar set of rainfall and other circumstances that could still flood."

"There will be areas in which structures shouldn't be built right to the river bank," he said. "The flood plain studies will show these areas and the probability degrees of flooding."

Final Report

Recently, the Corps said a preliminary study has been completed on Salt Creek and Beal's Slough, but a final report isn't anticipated for three of four months.

Gau also told the Salt-Wahoo directors that preliminary plans for the proposed Branch Oak dam and reservoir near Raymond have been in Washington since early July.

The proposed structure, if approved, would eliminate need for expensive Salt Creek channel work downstream from Oak Creek and another flood control structure.

Gau also reported plans for Dam 4 west of Sprague have been okayed by Washington.

Mrs. Joseph Grainger Dies; Services Monday

Graveside services will be held Monday in Lincoln for Mrs. Joseph Grainger, 95, of Santa Monica, Calif., who died there.

Mrs. Grainger

Mrs. Grainger was the widow of Joseph Grainger who together with his brother H. B. Grainger, founded Grainger Bros., a food wholesale firm in Lincoln.

Funeral services will be held Friday at All Saints Episcopal Church Chapel in Beverly Hills, Calif., and the graveside services here will be at Wyuka Cemetery at 11 a.m. Monday.

Mrs. Grainger, active in local music circles for a number of years, was a staunch Republican and one of Santa Monica's oldest voters.

Born in England, she lived in Lincoln until 1940 when she moved to California.

Survivors include two sons, William B. and J. Leslie Grainger, both of Salinas, Calif., and a daughter, Mrs. Wilbur Chenoweth of Santa Monica. Also surviving are 8 grandchildren and 15-great-grandchildren.

E. L. Rumbaugh Dies; Active In Scout Work

Edson L. Rumbaugh, 79, of 1212 Rose, former City Mission chairman and Boy Scout commissioner, died Wednesday.

A retired salesman for Pegler & Co. of Lincoln, he was first elected president of the City Mission in 1953 and was re-elected many times.

In 1962, he received the Silver Beaver Award for his activities in the church, city mission and other civic groups. This is the highest award given to an adult scout leader.

He spent 40 years assisting Boy Scout Troop 31 in many adult scout leadership positions.

Mr. Rumbaugh and his wife, Daisy, celebrated their 55th wedding anniversary July 28.

He was a member of the Evangelical United Brethren Church.

Survivors include his wife; sons, Lester H., Marion E. and Fay all of Lincoln, and Donald of California; daughter, Mrs. Lois Fowler of Arlington, Va.; brothers, The Rev. Arthur F. of Loveland, Colo., The Rev. Chester H. of Lincoln; six grandchildren.

Immunization Survey Said 'Successful'

Results of the city-wide immunization survey undertaken by the Lincoln-Lancaster Health Department Tuesday and Wednesday will be reported at the Nebraska Public Health Association's annual meeting in Omaha Sept. 17-18.

The survey which aims to determine the immunization protection of the average family was described by Dr. Under wood, health director, as "very successful."

He said that all 888 families interviewed, who represented the low, middle and high income groups in Lincoln, were cooperative and helpful.

The immunization survey will show how well Lincoln's families and children are protected against such diseases as polio, smallpox, whooping cough, tetanus and diphtheria.

Sigler Outlines Voc Ed Planning For Reformatory

Omaha (AP)—Plans to begin vocational education at the men's reformatory in 1965 were outlined by Maurice Sigler, head of the Nebraska Penal Complex.

He told the Omaha Rotary Club that a transfer of shops from the penitentiary to the reformatory will be made when work on 1965 license tags is completed at the reformatory.

Sigler also said that too many experienced guards had been transferred to the reformatory and work projects last spring and that this played a part in two penitentiary escapes. Now, he said, the situation has been corrected.

'Olympic Star' In Orbit

Cape Kennedy, Fla. (AP) — Syncom 3, a glittering "Olympic Star" communications satellite, soared into a preliminary orbit Wednesday en route to a stationary outpost to televise the Olympic Games from Japan.

If the satellite successfully executes a number of complex maneuvers in the next 12 days, it will come to a seeming standstill high above the mid-Pacific Ocean and be in position to speed to North America and Europe television pictures of the Oct. 10-24 games in Tokyo.

Syncom 3 is a research vehicle, and television is not its main assignment. But successful intercontinental transmission of pictures of the world's greatest sport spectacle would be dramatic evidence of what satellites can do to improve global communications.

The Defense Department also is considering use of the satellite to improve communications between Washington and Viet Nam.

Ready To Serve

Syncom 3 showed early that it is ready to serve as a communications beacon in the sky. As it whirled over the Pacific four hours after launching from Cape Kennedy, it received and beamed back to a communications ship a recording of the music of "The Star Spangled Banner." Voice and teletype communications also were successful.

United States, Japanese, Canadian and European interests have earmarked nearly $1 million to demonstrate Olympic television capability with the satellite. Practically none of the transmissions will be live, principally because of time differences. The major Olympic action will occur, for example, at hours when most Americans are asleep.

The satellite, its exterior spangled with 3,840 power-gathering solar cells, was launched by a TAD (Thrust-Augmented Delta) which roared away from Cape Kennedy at 7:15 a.m. (EST). The TAD, making its launching debut, is a three-stage Delta rocket with three solid propellant rockets strapped to the first stage to nearly double the thrust.

House Bill Blocks U.S. Courts On Redistricting

Washington (AP)—The House passed Wednesday night a far-reaching bill that would strip the federal courts of jurisdiction over apportionment of state legislatures.

The vote was 218 to 175.

The legislation — aimed at blocking redistribution of seats in both houses of state legislatures ordered by the Supreme Court on an equal population basis — now goes to the Senate.

A filibuster is already under way there against a milder proposal originated by Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois, the Republican leader, on the same subject. But the Senate bill would only delay the court-ordered reapportionment.

An underlying issue in the fight is rural vs. urban control of the legislatures.

In a series of rulings, the Supreme Court has held that federal courts have the authority to step in and direct the reapportionment of the legislatures where necessary and that the upper as well as the lower chambers of these bodies must provide representation on the basis of population.

Most of the upper chambers have given rural areas equal representation with more populous areas.

The House bill was introduced by Rep. William M. Tuck, D-Va., and sped to the floor in a power display by Rep. Howard W. Smith, D-Va., chairman of the rules committee. Smith involked a little-used House rule to snatch it away from the House Judiciary Committee.

The house voted 242-148 to take up the measure, foreshadowing its passage later in the day.

Much of the debate dealt with the rules committee's unorthodox procedure. Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., chairman of the judiciary committee, said it made the rules committee "the poohbah, or panjandrum of House proceedings."

Smith, in a fiery speech that brought him a standing ovation from most members, told the House:

"If we don't have the intestinal fortitude to stand up and say to the court 'thus far, and no farther,' this country is in a bad way."

He called the Supreme Court's reapportionment decision "the most drastic assault on the constitution that has happened in my time," and said Congress had a duty to save the nation from becoming a dictatorship.

There were equally strong statements against the Tuck bill, which would take jurisdiction over state apportionment away from the lower federal courts and appellate jurisdiction away from the Supreme Court.

Celler called the legislation "a vicious attack" on the Supreme Court and said it was completely unconstitutional.

It could lead to further nibbling away of the court's jurisdiction, he said, reducing the court to "a nullity," and producing legislative dictatorship.

Rep. John V. Lindsay, R-N.Y., who expressed disagreement with some of the court's reasoning in its latest reapportionment rulings, said the Tuck bill was "a violent, devastating proposal."

It goes far beyond the philosophical questions raised by the court, he said, "and strikes at the heart of the federal court system and the federal system."

But Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., struck the chord to which the majority vibrated when he said, "We're trying to discipline the Supreme Court today. They're sticking their noses into everrbody's business."

RIBBONS GO TO 50 COUNTY 4-H YOUTHS

Ribbons have been awarded to approximately 50 Lancaster County 4-H members who will have clothing, home living, health, safety or food demonstrations at the Lancaster County Fair which starts Tuesday in Lincoln.

Fourteen of the members will be announced Thursday as qualifiers for the demonstration contests at the State Fair Sept. 5-10.

The following won ribbons for clothing, home living, health or safety demonstrations Wednesday:

The following were awarded ribbons for the foods demonstrations August 12:

Purple ribbons: Nancy Mara and Janice McGill, Jane Wiechert, Bonnie Navratil, Linda Eickmeier and Peggy Eickmeier, Linda Casper and Margaret Vrana, Mary Alice Mack.

Blue ribbons: Carol Sabata, Paula French, Jane Swanson, Shirley Mutchie, Lizabeth Wolph, Julie Maroll and Judy Johnson, Debra Stranathan, Susan Strunc, Diane Burzlaff and Rozanne Dennison, Jim Frederick.

Red ribbons: Lois Fritts, Phyllis Nelson and Debbie Krohn, Becky Larhr, Carol Larson, Angela Meyer, Cathy Magee, Mary York, Sherri York, Alice Coleman, Ann Strunc, Paula Smith and Gail Smith.

Mrs. Opalle Stohlman of Lincoln was the judge for the clothing, home living, health and safety demonstrations and Mrs. Mildred Wittmuss of Lincoln was the foods judge.

Lincolnite Is World Fair Goer Champ

An 80-year-old Lincoln attorney, Fahy Baylor, calls himself the world's champion World Fair Goer.

Sunday and Monday he attended the New York World's Fair, this being the 10th World Fair he's visited.

He has regularly been attending fairs since 1893 when he saw the Chicago Exhibition at the age of 9 with his mother.

He said the 1964 New York World's Fair is "by far and away the best fair I've seen. The only one that comes close was the Brussell's Fair in 1958."

"You see no sad faces at this Fair. Everyone who comes here looks happy," Baylor said.

Mrs. Baylor, his wife of 45 years, said, "The fair is much more beautiful than I've been led to believe."

England's Trade Statistics Indicate Economic Storms

London (AP) — The latest figures on British trade indicated Wednesday that Britain may be headed into economic storms again.

Not only would this be bad news for the factory worker and his boss but also to the Conservative government which is keying the autumn election campaign to the theme of domestic prosperity.

There were widespread losses on the London Stock Market in the wake of the bad trade news. Britain's economic life depends on foreign trade.

Trade figures for July showed that exports last month fell to their lowest level since January. Imports also were down from June, for a saving of valuable foreign exchange.

The result was a drop in the trade gap from $316 million for June to $246 million for July. But financial experts and government officials conceded that was not enough.

The National Institute of Economic and Social Research, a private group supported by foundations, predicted that if present trends continue the government will have to cover a trade gap totaling perhaps $1.5 billion by the end of the year. This may bring back the "old dilemma" of the balance of payments, said the institute.

Britain must import much of its food and raw materials. It has developed a workshop economy of converting the raw materials into manufactured goods, and selling them abroad for a profit. If sales abroad slump the system runs down.

Power Unit Member Calls For Agreement

Nebraska Power Review Board member Thomas Eason of North Bend Wednesday called for agreement on construction of additional transmission facilities in the state.

★ ★ ★

Rurals Nearly Topped Equity Mark In July

Nebraska Public Power System Executive Manager Howard Ericksen of Columbus said Wednesday that preliminary reports indicate that rural electric districts came within 3,000 kilowatts of reaching the equity provisions in their contracts last month.

At the time, a number of power spokesmen indicated that the equity level probably had been surpassed.

Under the equity provision of the contract, rural districts are free to purchase additional power supplies from a source other than NPPS once their total demand matches their present contractual commitment with NPPS.

Ericksen said he could not be certain whether equity would be reached yet this year. However, the July peak demand is generally considered to be the likely peak for the year.

The combined demand of all requirements customers of NPPS came within 6,000 or 7,000 kilowatts of reaching total contractual commitments, according to preliminary NPPS reports.

Scooter Accident Hospitalizes Boy

David E. Edwards, 18, of 2115 So. 48th was in satisfactory condition at Bryan Memorial Hospital late Wednesday with head injuries suffered in a car-motor scooter accident near 48th and South St. Wednesday.

Police said David Edwards was driving a motor scooter and following a car driven by Lynn L. Edwards, 17, of 5555 A St. as both vehicles were eastbound on South St.

Lynn Edwards slowed down to make a right turn off of South St., and "the next thing" he knew, the motor scooter was beside him and "had hit the drivers side of his vehicle," according to police reports.

Eason said in a committee report to the full board:

"Power agency spokesmen are generally agreed that there should be construction of additional transmission facilities completed prior to the 1965 summer peak.

"The time element is important. What users of electricity in Nebraska need is continued adequate supply of electricity by sound engineering planning and construction, not by prolonged and expensive hearings."

The board has scheduled continuation of the hearing on the Nebraska Electric Generation and Transmission Cooperative's application to construct a 230-kilovolt line from Fort Randall to Grand Island for Sept. 8. Four days have been reserved for testimony.

The board will meet in executive session Sept. 2 with representatives from the City of Lincoln, Consumers Public Power District, Norris Public Power District and the University of Nebraska concerning retail service area agreements in Lancaster County.

As of Wednesday, the board has approved 159 agreements. Some 349 have been submitted, and 35 notices of inability to agree have been received.

JUDGE ORDERS A NEW TRIAL IN TAYLOR CASE

Lancaster District Court Judge Bartlett E. Boyles ordered a new trial on the charge of assault with intent to rob for Marvin E. Taylor, 23.

Taylor was found guilty of the charge by a District Court jury last May. The same jury found Taylor innocent of a second count of shooting with intent to kill, wound or maim.

The charges arose out of a Jan. 11 attempted robbery of the U-Save Service Station, 10th and J. Taylor allegedly pulled a gun on station attendent Donald Schleicher, fired a shot and then fled when a car pulled into the station.

Six Killed In Storm

Paris (AP) — Stormy weather was blamed for six deaths in scattered areas of France. Two fishermen drowned when their boat was caught in high waves. Two men and two youths drowned while swimming in high seas.

No Charges To Be Filed In Death Of Man Following Fight In Trailer

County Atty. Paul Douglas said no charges will be filed in connection with the death of 34-year-old railroad employe who died following a fight early Wednesday in a trailer house.

The dead man, Donald D. Woodcock of 2801 No. 26th, died after he was hit or shoved during a scuffle in the trailer and fell, hitting his head.

Dr. E. D. Zeman said that autopsy findings showed Woodcock had "a congenital condition of the blood vessels" which caused the death. The condition, a weakness in the blood vessel wall, caused a blood vessel to rupture at the base of the brain.

Woodcock, who lived at the trailer, was involved in an argument with a woman at the trailer house where he lived when another occupant of the trailer, a 25-year-old unemployed laborer, intervened.

A second woman also witnessed the scuffle, and all reported that Woodcock was shoved or hit and fell, striking his head.

The other man tried to revive him with mouth-to-mouth respiration as did law officers who arrived at the scene, called by one of the women. Woodcock was pronounced dead on arrival at the hospital.

Douglas said the man and two women had been questioned about the incident, but that the autopsy report showed that Woodcock's death was not known to be caused by the blow.

He noted that Woodcock suffered no injury to the skull or brain from the fight or fall.

SURVEY OF HOUSING IS UNDERWAY

A survey of community resources in housing is being made by the Better Lincoln Committee.

Charles P. Arnold, president of the organization, said Wednesday that the survey is to determine the resources presently available to the community in dealing with housing problems.

Questionnaires are being sent to all agencies and organizations who participate or are interested in housing activities.

He said the committee, upon compilation of the information sought, plans to organize a housing council early this fall to act as a clearing house for coordination of activities.

Results of the survey will help in determining which groups will be invited to become council members, he said.

Any community organization interested in housing may receive a questionnaire by writing the Better Lincoln Committee at 219 Sharp Building for a copy.

Accredited Status Lost By Hastings

... State Hospital

Hastings (AP) — The Hastings State Hospital has been denied accreditation after being surveyed by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals. The survey was conducted July 8-10.

The announcement came to Dr. Finn Lunde, superintendent of the hospital.

'Inadequate Staff'

The hospital's inadequate medical staff was the main cause for the commission's action, Lunde said. The commission expressed the feeling that the hospital's present medical staff was unable to provide the required level of patient care and treatment.

Dr. Lunde declared: "The only practical importance of the losing of accreditation deals with the training of student nurses. Presently nurses from two of the biggest nursing schools in Omaha and Lincoln, from a Scottsbluff nursing school and from Mary Lanning Memorial Hospital in Hastings are receiving training at the Hastings State Hospital."

During 1963 there were 223 student nurses who received training at the Hastings hospital. The students come to the hospital for three months. Presently, there are 38 student nurses in training at the hospital.

Dr. Lunde said affiliate nursing schools have not yet taken action on the matter.

"It is possible that they may continue to send nurses here on a temporary basis until they learn whether we are going to regain accreditation," Dr. Lunde said.

In notifying the schools of the accreditation action, Dr. Lunde called on them for help in attracting and keeping adequate medical staff personnel.

Sees Solution

He pointed out that one solution would be to cut down on the number of monthly admissions. The hospital at present is admitting 100 to 125 persons monthly, which is three times the number of patients admitted monthly at the Lincoln State Hospital.

Cutting the number of admissions to 50 to 60 monthly, the number Hastings State Hospital can adequately handle, would hurt the people in the 50 counties the hospital serves, Dr. Lunde said.

He said this would mean that approximately 600 persons annually would have to go elsewhere for treatment.

Wounded Officer Leaves Hospital

Omaha (AP)—Deputy Sheriff Dennis Tracy, wounded by a bank robber who later killed himself, went home from a hospital Wednesday.

Tracy was shot five times June 19 in an exchange with John B. Capehart, 34-year-old ex-convict who shortly before had held up the Douglas County Bank.

Capehart shot himself to death a few minutes later when he was cornered by state troopers on a country road near Valley.

Five bullets were removed from Tracy in surgery. Sheriff Patrick Corrigan said it will be some time before the 23-year-old deputy is able to return to duty.

Matching Suits Offered

Toronto (AP)—Nearly 100 eager women pushed their way into a Toronto discount store after it advertised free matching "topless and bottomless" bathing suits. Each received exactly what was offered—an empty box.

USAF Reports 'Devastating' Major Red Post

Saigon (UPI) — A U. S. Air Force spokesman said Wednesday that government fighter-bombers, some of them piloted by Americans, blasted a major communist headquarters south of Saigon in a "devastating" attack that left the entire region in blazing ruins.

The area laid waste in the "spectacularly successful" attack Tuesday was the reported headquarters of the Viet Cong guerrilla's crack Mekong River battalion located about 77 miles south of Saigon.

Disclosure of the raid coincided with announcement here that American military strength in Viet Nam has reached 17,200 men in a build-up expected to bring the total to 21,000.

A spokesman for the U.S. military command said the latest figure was reached on Aug. 13, meaning that the number of Americans had increased by nearly 900 in the first half-month after the build-up was announced in July.

An Air Force spokesman said 10 Vietnamese Air Force Skyraider planes, four piloted by Americans, took part in the attack on the Viet Cong headquarters near the mouth of the Co Chien River.

Vietnamese officials said the bombed-out area contained a supply depot and was the headquarters for all Communist Viet Cong guerrilla activity in populous Kien Hoa and Vinh Binh Provinces.

Pilots making the strike reported there were "heavy secondary explosions" presumed to be storage structures.

July Production Of Chicks Drops

Nebraska commericial hatcheries produced 139,000 chicks during July of this year, the State-Federal Division of Agriculture Statistics said.

The total was 71,000 below the same month a year earlier. The five-year average for the month has been 162,000.

Negraska's July egg production totaled 110 million, down 5% from July, 1963.

The five-year average for July has been 142 million eggs.

Court Asked To Refuse New Trial For Parker

The state Wednesday urged the Nebraska Supreme Court not to grant convicted wife slayer Darrel Parker a new trial.

Parker has appealed the refusal of the Lancaster County District Court last September to reopen his case on the grounds new pertinent evidence has come to light which was not known or available at the time of the original trial eight years ago.

Parker's attorneys submitted evidence at the hearing last year designed to show that Ohio convict Wesley Peery, who was living in Lincoln at the time of the murder, committed the crime.

Parker, who was then Lincoln city forrester, first admitted strangling his wife but later repudiated the confession and has maintained his innocence ever since.

The 31-year-old former resident of Henderson, Iowa is currently serving a life term in the State Penitentiary.

The district court refused his motion for a writ of coram nobis—a legal device for obtaining a new trial—on the grounds the new evidence submitted was hearsay and not admissible in court.

The state's brief took the same line.

"We strongly urge this (Supreme) Court to find that petitioner (Parker) has not met the burden of proof imposed on him in a coram nobis proceeding. The only evidence which might tend to support his claim of innocence is pure hearsay evidence."

The brief noted this is the same evidence which would be submitted at any new trial.

Going to move? Then notify the Circulation Dept. so you won't miss your paper. Be sure to give both old and new address.

Slumberless Party Is Farewell

When you invite 54 friends to a slumber party it goes without saying that no one expects to get any sleep. Add to the fact that all the hostesses and guests were June graduates of Southeast High and plan to be off to college in September, then you have an endless variety of topics for all-night conversation.

The Tuesday evening party was a farewell courtesy—and surprise—for Connie Whitney, who with her parents· Mr. and Mrs. Craig C. Whitney, her sister, Sue, and brother, Craig David, will leave in the near future to reside in Chicago.

The hostesses, whose duties involved eight cases of pop, six dozen brownies and endless amounts of popcorn, pretzels and potato chips, were Jan Kamtz, Sandi Dean Ann Windle, Barb Walters, Sue Ely and Linda Zuick, who entertained at the home of Jan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glade Kamtz.

A Fivesome Of Young Guests

Life is exciting and very busy at the home of Dr. and Mrs. John C. Thompson these days. They have a house full of guests — eight, to be exact. Five of the eight are the grandchildren of Dr. and Mrs. Thompson who are having a happy time during their Lincoln visit.

In the picture, from the left, are John Thompson, Sara Thompson, Nora Thompson, Kate Thompson and the small Frankie Lee Thompson.

John and Frankie Lee are the son and daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John S. Thompson who arrived a few days ago from Chicago. Sarah, Nora and Kate are the daughters of Mrs. Phyllis Thompson, and this feminine foursome arrived from Boulder late last week. It probably isn't necessary to mention that Mrs. Thompson is the former Phyllis Thompson daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John C. Thompson, but we do think you will be interested that she is working towards her doctorate in geography at the University of Colorado.

Shower

A University of Nebraska coed who has chosen a September wedding date is Miss Sally Jean Botsford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Botsford who has revealed that her marriage to Robert Degenhardt will be solemnized on Friday, Sept. 4.

Entertaining Saturday in courtesy to the soon-to-be bride will be Mrs. W. D. Douglass, Mrs. W. H. Mengel and Mrs. J. M. Calder, Jr., who will be hostesses at a 10 o'clock coffee and miscellaneous shower at the Hotel Cornhusker.

DEAR ABBY

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My problem may not sound very serious to you, but it has caused a small war between my girl and me. I am a mechanic, 23 and single. I am going with a very nice girl who is 22 and works in an office. Her office is having a party. (A hayride, of all things.) They decided not to ask anyone who is NOT employed in their office. That isn't too bad. But the clincer is that no wives or husbands are invited. They are all over 21 and drinks are served. If I were a married man working in an office, I wouldn't go to an office party if my wife was not welcome. My girl is on the hayride committeee and she says I don't work in an office and I don't know what I'm talking about; that any time you have married couples at a drinking party it always ends up in a drunken brawl. Am I wrong. Or is she?

MECHANIC

DEAR MECHANIC: She is. And, furthermore, if a married person is in danger of becoming involved in a "drunken brawl," he is better off with his own wife.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I am an attrative (I'm told) 23-year-old woman who has more than her share of dates, so please don't think I'm man-hungry. I have a next-door neighbor who is approximatly 26. He has been living there with his brother and sister-in-law for about a year. I am not the flirty type, so things have been going slow. I know he is shy, and so far the most I have been able to get out of him is a "hello." I know he is aware of my existence, but that's about it. I don't think he has a steady girl as he's home a lot. How can I go about wrangling a date with him?

INTERESTED

DEAR INTERESTED: Your best bet is to become better acquainted with the sister-in-law. You can always borrow a cup of sugar. Once she knows you better, if the man is available, interested, and normal, you'll have your chance. Otherwise, who needs him?

Suburban Parties Non-Political Type

PARK MANOR

The shrill trumpet of an elephant has barely died away in suburbia, and one can already hear the braying of a donkey, demanding equal time on the mass communication media.

This in short means that the Democratic Convention will be the topic of conversation for the next two weeks, or so. And we're not sure that they even have cleaned up the convention floor from the GOP get-together, which is probably why this one is in a different place.

Political party platforms may differ, but suburbia is still running on the same ticket. More guests, more fun, and more activity—plus a chicken in every pot.

And for our first candidates, we offer Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Goshen, who are currently entertaining as their houseguests Mrs. Goshen's cousin and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Barton and sons Brian and Joe of Bloomfield, Mo. The Barton family, arrived Monday, and plans to stay in Lincoln a few more days.

Among the courtesies which Mr. and Mrs. Goshen planned for the guests was a dinner Wednesday evening at East Hills. The table's setting included places for Mr. and Mrs. Lem Dobbin and sons Larry and Mike.

Colorado seems to be a popular destination for Lincoln residents on vacation. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mulvaney and their sons, John, Jim, and Bab, returned last weekend from Grand Lake, Colo., where they spent their leisure time.

On the way, they stopped at the home of Mr. Mulvaney's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Jackman of Grant, and also at the home of Mrs. Mulvaney's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Crittenden of Greeley, Colo.

More proof of Colorado's popularity lies in the vacation from which Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Starr and their children, Robby, Mark, and Kent, recently returned.

They spent 10 days camping out at Mesa Verde National Park, Colo. Jane Starr did not accompany her family on vacation, but visited at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. O. V. Hemphill of Byers, Kan. In addition to also visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hemphill, the Starr family stopped at the home of Mr. Starr's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Abney of Paola, Kan.

Returning from Mesa Verde they picked up Jane and again stopped at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Abney for a short get-together.

Park Manor is losing another family via the moving vans. Next Tuesday, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Barrett and their children, Ricky, Billy, and Nancy Ann, will be on their way to their new home in Des Moines, Iowa.

But before Mrs. Barrett leaves, she will be honored at a Friday evening coffee, for which Mrs. Jack Magwire and Mrs. Donald Falos will be hostesses at the Magwire home.

The farwell courtesy guest list includes Mrs. Wallace Albers, Mrs. Bill Krumel, Mrs. Donald Strasheim, Mrs. George W. Reichenbach, Mrs. Margaret Cunningham, Mrs. Harry Ylander, Mrs. William Doran, Mrs. Ben Fischer, Mrs. Clint Mason, Mrs. Richard Campbell, and Mrs. Warren Andrews. Mrs. Falos's mother, Mrs. Norman Wilker, also will be a guest.

We mentioned that Mrs. Falos's mother, Mrs. Wilker, would be a guest at the coffee for Mrs. Barrett, so perhaps we should explain that visiting at the home of Mrs. and Mrs. Falos is Mrs. Falos's parents who are from Grand Forks, N.D.

Returning from a vacation trip in Denver Saturday will be Mrs. Falos's brother-in-law, and sister, Mr. and Mrs. James Ballantine, also of Grand Forks, who will be accompanying the Wilkers home, and who will spend a few days as the houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. Falos before taking off for home.

FIENE HEIGHTS

Visiting in Lincoln have been Mrs. Karl Bauman and her daughter Jenny of Tallahassee, Fla., who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Kent L. Sherman. They left Monday for the return trip home.

Mrs. Bauman attended the University of Nebraska, where in addition to being a cheerleader, she was a member of Alpha Omicron Pi.

During their visit, they were also the guests of Mrs. Bauman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Dikmund of Wilber and Mr. Bauman's parents, Dr. and Mrs. E. K. Bauman of Ravenna.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Moss will be entertaining as their guests this week, Mrs. Moss's mother, Mrs. Clarence Nicholas of Lawton, Iowa, and her sister, Miss Mabel Nicholas of Arlington, Va.

BETHANY PARK HEIGHTS

Returning from Estes Park and the YMCA camp recently were Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Hall and their children, David, Jeff, Kathy, and Marcia. Accompanying them on vacation was Mr. Hall's mother, Mrs. Erna Hall of Council Bluffs, Iowa.

To Be Hostess

A hostess at dinner on Thursday evening will be Mrs. Margaret Davis. Mrs. Davis, who is chairman of the extension committee of the Soroptimist Club of Lincoln, will entertain the committee members at a 7 o'clock dinner, at Town and Country Restaurant.

Questions and Answers

Patricia Scott

Certain stitches are used specifically for various parts of a garment. When they are recommended, no other stitch should be substituted.

☆ ☆ ☆

Q. I plan to make a winter coat soon and I don't want to run into the same problem I did when making my spring coat. I shortened it and took pains with the hem by using a slip-stitch. After pressing it I found a line was noticeable on the right side of the coat. Is there anything I can do to prevent this: Mrs. A.S.J.

A. Never slip-stitch a coat hem or any hem. Use the plain hemming-stitch for regular hems and the catch-stitch for coat and suit jacket hems. To do this, work from left to right, crossing threads at each stitch. Do not pull stitches too tight and be sure to catch only one thread on the coat; otherwise, it will show on the right side.

☆ ☆ ☆

Q. I am making a cocktail dress of a lame metallic fabric. How should it be pressed? Miss S.S.

A. Set iron gauge for moderate heat. Before pressing test a scrap of fabric.

Press very lightly with a dry iron and with a cloth. If you must press any details on the right side, use tissue paper over the fabric.

Q. Is it necessary to cut all pattern pieces at one time? Miss L. S.

A. It isn't necessary, but it is much easier to do so. If you must cut a few at a time, first lay each piece on the fabric to be sure that you have enough of it. Double-check the accuracy of the grain line.

☆ ☆ ☆

Q. What should I use to mark mohair? Miss M. A. L.

A. Tailor's tacks.

Q. Should I put the hem in a pleated skirt before I press the pleats? Mrs. M. A.

A. Yes. Hemming is very difficult once the pleats have been pressed.

Q. Should I baste the shoulder seams together before fitting, or is it all right to pin instead? Mrs. G. G.

A. Basting is easier, and it's also more accurate than pinning.

Opening lead — ten of hearts.

Here is a tough hand to play. There seem to be ten tricks, but how do you go about cashing them against best defense?

First let's see how the actual declarer played the hand. South won the trump lead in dummy and continued with a trump, East showing out.

South realized that if he now played the third trump and then cashed the ace of spades and ruffed a spade, in order to draw West's last trump, he would be out of trumps himself. A diamond lead to force out the ace would then permit the opponents to cash any spades they had left.

Faced with this problem, declarer played the king of diamonds at trick three. If East had taken the ace, South would have been out of the woods, but East ducked instead, West playing the eight on the trick. East then took the next diamond, gave his partner a ruff, and South lost two club tricks at the end to go down one.

Declarer can make the contract by making a very unusual play. He cashes the K-Q-J of hearts and then plays a low spade from dummy!

Once this play is made, the defense is helpless. One opponent or the other wins the trick, but can make no effective return. Let's say a spade is returned, which is as good as any other play.

Declarer ruffs and cashes the ace of hearts, drawing West's last trump as well as his own. On this trick he discards a club from dummy. Now he forces out the ace of diamonds.

It does not matter what East returns. Dummy has all winners except for the jack of clubs which declarer concedes at the end. South loses three tricks all told—a spade, a diamond and a club.

What declarer does, in effect, is cash his obvious ten tricks, but he can accomplish this only by making the extraordinary play of a low spade away from the ace.

Courtesies

Honoring August bride-elect, Miss Mary Lou Melson, recently were Miss Claudia Westphalen and Miss Carol Lefler who entertained a group of guests at a personal shower.

Miss Melson, who will become the bride of Kenneth Jambor of Prague on Saturday, Aug. 29, also was honored recently at a one-gift shower for which Towne Club members at the University of Nebraska were hostesses.

Miss Carol Lefler will attend Miss Melson as maid of honor, and her bridesmaids will be Miss Claudia Westphalen and her sister, Miss Susan Melson.

Serving his cousin as best man will be Ernest Osmera, Weston, and the ushers will be Gary Landenburger, Morse Bluff; Fred Nass, Grant; Kenneth Carouthers, Madrid; and Kenneth Kuncl, Prague.

Something New For Autumn

There is something about autumn—and it is approaching rapidly, that gives one the urge for exciting activity—The football season always is a gay time — and close on the heels of that fun period comes the holidays. So, you see, autumn floats into winter on a little pink cloud of festivity. Festivity means parties — and new things to serve the guests. May we suggest, as a "something new" this recipe for Tea Cake Loaves?

"Tea Cake Loaves" can be made a day or two ahead and the cake will not only retain its fine flavor and pound-cake texture but it will also slice beautifully. Serve with garnishes of nuts or accompanied by fresh fruits in season, "Tea Cake Loaves" are a treat for the family or entertaining friends. (If appetites aren't too ravenous, set one aside for the freezer — this cake stores perfectly.)

TEA CAKE LOAVES

- 1 cup soft butter or margarine (½ pound)
- 1 cup granulated sugar
- 1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar
- 6 egg yolks (½ cup)
- 2 tablespoons grated lemon rind
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 3 cups sifted cake flour
- 2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
- 1 cup milk
- 2 tablespoons instant tea
- 2 egg whites (¾ cup)

1) Preheat oven to 350°F. In large bowl, with mixer at medium speed, beat butter or margarine until creamy, gradually beat in sugars until creamy. Then gradually add egg yolks and beat until very light and fluffy, about 7 minutes. Add lemon rind and vanilla extract.

2) In small bowl, sift together flour and baking powder. Gradually stir milk into instant tea.

3) At low speed, blend in flour-mixture alternately with tea-milk, in three parts, starting and ending with flour.

4) Now in small bowl, beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry; then carefully fold into batter. Turn into two greased 8½" by 4½" by 2½" foil loaf pans and bake about one hour or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean.

5) Cool on rack in pans 10 minutes, then invert cakes on rack; remove pans and cool.

The Fish Go Fancy

Conscientious homemakers, like fashion designers, are constantly on the lookout for new ideas to stimulate everyday meals. There is nothing like something different on the menu to make the family sit up and take notice—and it's often an easy cure for problem eaters. Whether you use a new recipe or simply find a new way of serving an old favorite, the change need not be complicated or expensive. Take these Fish-Cheese Roll-Ups, for example. They are easy to prepare this way, and economical, too. "Roll-Ups" may sound fancy, but they're simply strips of fish fillets rolled up with a savory mixture of Swiss cheese and herbs.

FISH-CHEESE ROLL-UPS

- 1 package fresh or frozen fish fillets
- 2 to 3 very thin slices Swiss cheese
- 3 tablespoons chopped parsley
- 3 tablespoons chopped onion
- 2 teaspoons prepared mustard
- ⅔ cup fine dry bread crumbs
- ½ teaspoon salt
- Freshly ground black pepper
- 1 egg, beaten
- ¼ cup butter or margarine

If fish is frozen, let thaw on refrigerator shelf or at room temperature. Cut fillets into strips 1¼ inches wide and 6 to 8 inches long. Cut cheese into 1-inch wide strips and trim one strip to fit each fillet strip. Combine parsley, onion, mustard, bread crumbs, salt and pepper. Spread about 1 tablespoonful on each fillet-cheese strip. Roll up like a jelly roll and skewer through roll with toothpick. Dip whole roll in beaten egg. Roll in remaining crumbs. Heat butter in skillet. Add fillet rolls and fry over moderate heat, turning to brown all sides, about 6 minutes in all. Serve 3 or 4 to a portion. Makes 3 or 4 servings.

Peach Of A Desert

There are many kinds of dumplings; small light ones floating atop soups, hearty ones in stews and casseroles; or dessert dumplings folded around fruit mixtures.

Most dumplings are made from a light baking powder biscuit dough and cooked by boiling in stew or soup; steaming; or baking.

Dumplings were, no doubt, developed by peasant cooks who were attempting to avoid waste and secure every possible bit of nourishment from their limited food supply. They carefully wrapped choice bits of meat, fish, or fruit in a dough and cooked them. The dough sealed in the juice and flavor.

A far cry from peasant fare is this sweet peach dumpling. The dumpling is delicately flavored with bran; cooked in the hollow of a juicy peach; and served warm, heaped with unsweetened whipped cream.

PEACH DUMPLINGS
SYRUP

- ½ cup sugar
- 1 cup water
- 1½ teaspoons grated lemon rind
- 3 tablespoons currant jelly
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 4 large ripe peaches, peeled, pitted and halved

DUMPLINGS

- ½ cup 100% bran
- 2 eggs, well beaten
- ¼ cup sugar
- ¼ teaspoon ground nutmeg
- ⅓ cup packaged biscuit mix
- 1 tablespoon butter or margarine
- Whipped heavy cream

Dissolve sugar and water in a medium-sized skillet over low heat. Add lemon rind and currant jelly. Cover; simmer 5 minutes. Add lemon juice. Remove a thin slice from the rounded side of peaches; place in skillet, hollow side down. Cover and simmer 5 minutes.

Meanwhile soak bran in eggs for 5 to 7 minutes. Add sugar and nutmeg to biscuit mix. Cut in butter until mixture resembles coarse cornmeal. Add bran mixture; mix lightly with fork to form soft dough. Turn peaches. Drop dough into hollows. Simmer gently for 10 minutes. Cover and cook 10 minutes. Serve in sherbet or parfait glasses topped with whipped unsweetened cream. Makes 8 servings. This recipe may also be prepared in an electric skillet, with control set at 212°F. It is important that the liquid simmers all the time.

Spareribs— Oven-Cooked Or Barbecued

Spareribs are good eating —indoors or outdoors. Either way, however, the glaze adds the unbeatable flavor. We are presenting 'Tonga Spareribs' this morning, and an accompanying glaze that may be used for either the oven-cooked, or the barbecued variety. The glaze is used a bit differently.

TONGA SPARERIBS
A Glaze to Glamorize Ham AND Pork, Too.

TONGA GLAZE: Heat to simmering 1 (8¾-ounce) can crushed pineapple, ½ cup each honey and pineapple juice, 3 tablespoons vinegar, 1 tablespoon each soy sauce and minced onion and 2 teaspoons ginger.

OVEN RIBS: Sprinkle 2 sides meaty spareribs (about 4 pounds) with salt and pepper. Arrange in single layer in shallow pan. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) 30 to 40 minutes. Drain off fat. Lower heat to 325 degrees F. Bake ½ hour. Sppoon on part of glaze. Continue baking 30 to 40 minutes longer, basting occasionally with glaze. Makes 4 servings.

CHARCOAL GRILLED RIBS: Select lean ribs. Use oven method up to point of draining off fat. Grill, basting with glaze, until ribs are tender.

It's A Honey

This is a honey of a raisin rice pudding: Layer 2 cups cooked rice and 1 cup dark seedless raisins in greased 1-quart baking dish. Pour ½ cup honey over all, then mixture of 2 well beaten eggs, 1 cup milk and ½ teaspoon vanilla. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 45 minutes. It's delicious served warm or chilled.

'Instant Entertaining' Ideas

Did you ever hear of "Instant Entertainment"? That's what you get when you serve dips. There's almost no work to the delicious concoctions, but much appreciation from the diners. Here are two dip recipes guaranteed to make that party a success.

PEP-THEM-UP CHIP DIP

- 1 Edam cheese (or Gouda cheese)
- 1 tbsp. prepared mustard
- ½ cup sour cream
- 2 tsps. Worcestershire sauce
- 2 tbsp. minced herbs
- few grains sayenne

Scrape cheese from shell, chop fine. Mix well with other ingredients. Refill the cheese shell. Serve surrounded by large potato chips or crackers.

HAPPY CHATTER CHIP DIP

- ½ C. Roquefort cheese
- 1 pkg. cream cheese (small)
- 1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
- 1 tbsp. mayonnaise
- 1 tbsp. butter
- 1 C. sour cream
- ¼ C. ground nut meats

Cream first 6 ingredients well. Beat in nut meats. If too stiff for dipping, add more sour cream.

PARMESAN CHEESE STRAWS

- ½ cup butter
- 1½ cups grated Parmesan cheese
- ½ cup milk
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon Tobasco
- dash paprika
- dash cayenne
- 1½ cups flour
- 3 cups fine soft bread crumbs

Soften butter at room temperature, cream until light. Beat in 1¼ cups of the grated cheese and the milk. Add seasonings, and gradually work in flour and crumbs. Knead on a floured board until blended. Divide the mixture into two parts. Wrap in waxed paper and chill for several hours or overnight. Roll each half between sheets of waxed paper—⅛ inch thick. With a pastry wheel, cut into strips 6 inches long and ½ inch wide. Sprinkle with reserved ¼ cup Parmesan cheese. Bake on greased baking sheet, in a moderate oven (350° F.) 10 to 15 minutes, until lightly browned.

SHRIMP SALAD BOATS

- 1 pound fresh or frozen shrimp, cleaned, cooked and chilled
- 1 cup celery, diced
- Salt and pepper to taste
- ¼ cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
- 12 small rolls
- Speedy Chive Butter (recipe below)

Select six shrimp and cut these in half lengthwise, reserving for garnish. Chop remainder. Mix with celery and mayonnaise and season to taste. Chill. Slice rolls almost through, leaving a hinge. Spread with Chive Butter, using about two teaspoons per roll. Fill each with a heaping tablespoon of shrimp salad and garnish with a shrimp half. Wrap and chill until serving time. Shrimp Boats make a pleasant tea-time snack with a beverage or may be served two to a person with soup or a salad for luncheon. Makes twelve.

SPEEDY CHIVE BUTTER

- ¼ pound butter or margarine
- 3 tablespoons frozen fresh chopped chives
- ½ to ¾ teaspoon aromatic bitters
- Freshly ground pepper, if desired

Soften butter at room temperature. Beat with a wooden spoon until creamy, gradually adding chives. Beat in ½ teaspoon bitters. Then taste and add remaining bitters and pepper if desired. Makes ½ cup.

U.S. High Court Still Asked To Settle Boundary Disputes

Nebraska will proceed with its action to have the U.S. Supreme Court assume jurisdiction in boundary land disputes between the state of Iowa and individual Nebraska citizens despite a refusal by the Supreme Court to stop such actions in Iowa courts, Atty. Gen. Clarence A. H. Meyer said Wednesday.

The Supreme Court had denied such a motion by Meyer which would have prevented the continuation of a suit by Iowa against Henry Schemmel of Nebraska City which is now being conducted in Iowa.

Meyer said denial of the motion has nothing to do with the other action to have the Supreme Court settle the boundary cases.

The disputes are over lands created by a change in the course of the Missouri River.

Iowa claims that under its laws the state owns the land because they were formerly part of the river bed.

But under Nebraska law, the owner of shoreline property has title to the land out to the middle of the stream.

Under the 1943 boundary compact between the two states, each agreed to recognize existing title to land which was transferred to the other state under the agreement.

The difference in the laws of the two states covering river bed land is the heart of the Iowa legal action against Schemmel and the other cases which are anticipated.

Rookie Defensive Back's NFL Debut Good Teacher

By BOB FOWLER

Bloomfield Hills, Mich. (UPI)—Bobby Thompson sat on the edge of his bed in the dormitory at the Cranbrook school, shook his head and sighed, "there's so much to learn, so much to learn."

Thompson's National Football League baptism as a defensive halfback with the Detroit Lions, has been something less than an auspicious occasion. And he's the first to admit it.

The first NFL experience for the 24-year-old "rookie" (he played two years of pro ball for Montreal in the Canadian League) took place two weeks ago when the Lions met the Washington Redskins in an exhibition contest. Thompson was matched against speedster Bobby Mitchell.

"You've seen those 'road-runner' cartoons?" Thompson asked. "Boy, that's what Mitchell reminded me of. I thought he was going at top speed one time and then he turned it on and went right by me."

Mitchell grabbed scoring passes of 52 and 60 yards and Angelo Coia hauled in a 92-yard TD pass over Thompson's head.

The next week the former Arizona halfback was scheduled to play against the league's best end, Ray Berry of the Baltimore Colts.

"I studied their plays, our defensive plays on the right side (Berry plays left end) and listened to veterans describe Berry's moves for an entire week," Thompson confessed. "Then, in the game I was sent in to play the left cornerback and my man was Jimmy Orr."

It didn't take Thompson long to discover that Orr is pretty speedy, too.

Justice Department Eyeing Yank Sale

Washington (AP)—The purchase of the New York Yankees by the Columbia Broadcasting System came under fire from a new quarter Wednesday as the Justice Department said it was studying a possible antitrust violation.

Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., of the House Judiciary Committee said Saturday that the purchase of the American League baseball team by CBS raised questions under the Celler-Kefauver Antitrust Act.

CBS announced last week it had bought 80% of the Yankees' stock for approximately $11.2 million, with an option to acquire the remaining 20 per cent in five years.

Dr. Frank Stanton, president of the network, said CBS was advised by its Counsel that the deal did not in any way violate antitrust laws.

The Supreme Court has held that baseball is exempt from antitrust laws, but television networks are not exempt.

The Justice Department refused to classify its actions as a full-scale investigation, noting that FBI accountants, normally called on in an all-out antitrust probe, haven't been brought into the case.

At present, the spokesman said, only the attorneys of the Antitrust Division are looking into the deal. He added, "We're just trying to assemble more facts than we have now."

Meanwhile, the New York World-Telegram and Sun quoted an unnamed government attorney as saying that the deal "seems to violate" federal antitrust laws.

The attorney said the Supreme Court had ruled against similar deals involving movies and television, the newspaper said.

In a story under a Washington dateline, the newspaper said the attorney suggested that the deal might violate the section of the Sherman Antitrust Act which says there shall be no contract or agreement in restraint of trade.

He added that the agreement also appears to violate the Celler-Kefauver Antitrust Act, which prohibits acquiring substantial interests that may substantially lessen competition or tend to a monopoly.

The newspaper quoted the attorney as saying, "If a network thought its team was too far out in front it could sell off some of its players to make the pennant race tighter, and attract more television viewers. It could lead to another Black Sox scandal."

This was a reference to a bribery scandal in the 1919 World's Series.

Since it first came to light last week, the transaction has been under fire—first, because of the hasty way league approval was obtained by a telegraphic ballot only a few days after a league meeting and second, because of possible antitrust violations.

In a statement released Wednesday night, CBS reiterated that the "best legal advice that CBS could get assures us that no conflict with anti-trust law is involved."

And it denied that its purchase of the club gives it a privileged position in negotiating for broadcasting rights to World Series, All-Star games or similar events.

YANKS DROP ANOTHER, 4-2

Onrushing Sox Climb In Race

. . . FOR AL PENNANT

Chicago (AP)—Chicago's onrushing White Sox capitalized on a New York Yankee error for two unearned runs Wednesday night, humbled the defending American League champions 4-2 for the third straight time and moved to within one-half game of the league lead.

The triumph, the White Sox' fifth in seven games with New York after losing 10 straight, combined with a loss by league-leading Baltimore to put Al Lopez' crew just a half-length off the pace. The struggling, troubled Yankees remained four full games back.

The White Sox used an old Yankee formula in the key victory—they made the opposition beat themselves.

The key play came in the Chicago seventh. With runners on first and second and the scored tied 2-2 J.C. Martin sacrificed down the third base line. Yankee starter and loser Jim Bouton's throw to third for the force play was late, but pinch runner Mike Hershbuerger overslid the bag.

Yankee third baseman Clete Boyer tagged the runner—then dropped the ball and the bases were loaded. Bouton walked in the lead run and a sacrifice fly drove in another.

The White Sox first two runs also crossed on errors—two on one play by Boutin—in the third. One crossed when he missed the base while covering first and the other when he dropped the ball in disgust at the call.

Tom Tresh got one Yankee run with his 14th homer.

Two-Out Bunt In Tenth Inning Gives Manden 3-2 Win Over Grand Island

By DON FORSYTHE
Prep Sports Writer

Hastings — Nebraska lost its representative in the regional American Legion baseball tournament and previously unbeaten Aberdeen, S. D., lost its first game as the field was trimmed to three survivors Wednesday night.

Grand Island was eliminated by Mandan, N.D., 3-2 in a 10-inning contest, before Waterloo, Iowa, ended Aberdeen's string of three straight 1-0 wins with a 6-2 decision.

Wednesday's games leave Mandan, Waterloo and Aberdeen with 3-1 records in the double elimination tourney. Waterloo won the draw for the bye and will watch while Mandan and Aberdeen clash Thursday night.

Clem Richau's bases-loaded, two-out bunt in the top of the 10th pushed across the winning run for Mandan after the Dakotans had knotted Grand Island 2-2 in the fourth.

The winning rally started with a bad-hop single to shortstop by Bill Cook, Mike Norton followed with a single to put runners on first and second.

Al Furby, lefthander who came on in relief in the eighth inning, then got John Grunseth to fly out to right field and erased Larry House as he sacrificed runners to second and third.

Bill Block was intentionally passed to get to Reichaw, a left-handed swinger. He barely beat out his bunt down the third base line as he pushed in the winning tally. Furby got Scott Froelich to ground into a force paly to retire the side.

House was the pitching hero for the winners, coming in to relieve starter Frank Walter in the third inning. Walter had given up single runs in both the first and second innings.

House allowed only one hit the remainder of the game and aided his own cause with a two-run single in the fourth. Both of the runs off Islander starter Bill Adams were unearned.

Grand Island had a pair of hits in both of its run-scoring innings, but southpaw House quickly cooled off the Islander bats.

Don Hember's club dropped from the tourney with a 28-13 record.

Waterloo collected seven hits off three Aberdeen pitchers in scoring the first runs against the South Dakota champions.

The Iowa entry pushed across single runs in its first three times at bat and added insurance runs with uprisings in the sixth and eighth innings.

Gary Tann tripled and brother Gaylen bunted him across in the third inning to provide the deciding run for the Iowans.

Don Steffen, who was a 1-0 victim of Aberdeen Sunday, worked the first two infings for the winners and then gave way to Dick Berry, who stopped the South Dakota club n two hits the rest of the way.

Red Sox Erase Orioles By 4-3

. . . ROOKIE STARS

Boston (AP)—Rookie Tony Horton fouled off two bunt attempts, then slammed a double that scored Carl Yastrzemski with the winning run in the 10th inning, giving Boston a 4-3 triumph over American league-leading Baltimore Wednesday night.

The loss, coupled with Chicago's 4-2 victory over the third-place New York Yankees, sliced the Orioles' lead to one-half game over the White Sox.

Horton's two-strike clout into the left field corner came off southpaw Harvey Haddix, fifth Baltimore pitcher. Yastrzemski had started the inning with a single.

Boston reliever Dick Radatz and starter Earl Wilson limited the Orioles to five hits with Radatz getting the victory, his 11th in 61 relief appearances.

Rookie second baseman Dalton Jones ignited one Boston rally with a drag bunt and capped another with the second of his doubles.

Leg Injury May Sideline Famed Northern Dancer

. . . DECISION DUE LATER

Toronto (AP)— Northern Dancer, winner of the Kentucky Derby and Preakness, is crippled and may be through with racing but his owner wants to wait three weeks before finally deciding on the future of the year's leading 3-year-old horse.

"The leg has been put in a cast to reduce the swelling and inflammation," E. P. Taylor, owner of the Windfields Farms, said Wednesday "the cast will be removed in about three weeks. We will make an announcement then."

Taylor insited that reports that the Canadian-bred colt was through because of a bowed tendon were premature and inaccurate.

According to the owner, Northern Dancer was working out on an off track at Belmont Park in New York July 30 when he rapped himself on the inside of his left fore-leg.

"He was given the usual treatment for an injury of this nature." Taylor added. "For several days after the accident there was no indication of any injury to the tendon which remained completely straight.

"However, inflammation and swelling of the area did not respond to treatment."

The horse's trainer, Horatio Luro, and a veterinary surgeon made an inspection two days ago and found a slight bow in the tendon. The leg was immediately placed in a cast.

Taylor said he had planned to run the Dancer in the Arlington Classic at Chicago Aug. 8 and the Travers Stakes at Saratoga next Saturday. The colt was pulled from both events.

Northern Dancer is rated the greatest stakes winner ever to be bred in Canada.

In 18 starts during his two-career, the colt won 14 of them and never finished out of the money. He earned $580,647.

As a 2-year-old, he won seven of his nine races and finished second twice. This year he has had nine starts, winning seven and placing third in the other two.

In addition to the Kentucky Derby and Preakness, he won Canada's classic, the Queen's Plate. He was shooting to become the first horse in 16 years to win the American Triple Crown—the Derby, Preakness and Belmont — when he ran behind Quadrangle and Roman Brother in the Belmont.

CLL Stars Selected

Columbus — Lincoln's Gerry's, with four players gaining berths, led balloting for the Cornhusker Legion All-Star team, released Wednesday by league secretary Del Miller.

Gerry's placed second baseman Bob Vasatka, catcher Bob White, outfielder Larry Smith and pitcher Mick Zangari on the 15-man team.

Others named to the all-star team were:

First base—Mike Bohoty, Lincoln Optimists; third base—Don South, Hastings; shortstop—Bob Hegi, Columbus; outfielders—Steve Johnson, Grand Island, and Doug Dworak, Lincoln Roberts; utility—Jim Kerr, Hastings, Jim Nixon, York; pitchers — Alan Furby, Grand Island, Marv Jirowsky, Norfolk, Larry Neff, Hastings, Rick Jasa, Kearney.

Zangari was the leading pitcher with a 6-0 record while Dworak won the batting title with a .435 mark.

South Drills Defense

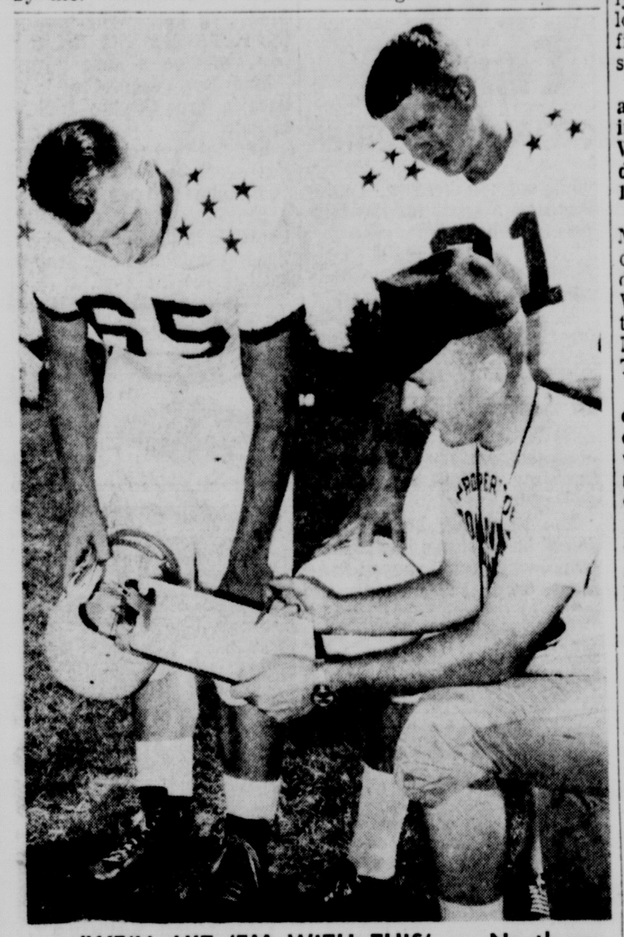
Crete (AP)—South Shrine football players pointed toward stopping the expected strong running attack of the North Wednesday during practice sessions on the Doane College campus.

Coach Merle Applebee's staff polished defensive units during the morning session, then threw in some drill offensive tactics during the afternoon.

Warmer weather following the cooler temperatures of the last few days tended to slow the team Wednesday, coaches said.

Hayes Center back Roger Nitsch drew praise from the coaches for his hard running and sharp blocking and tackling. Applebee also noted Jack Sheely, 178-pound back from Auburn, was hitting hard.

Also coming in for a share of praise was Tom Robbins, tackle from Boys Town, who is exptected to bolster the South line.



'WE'LL HIT 'EM WITH THIS' . . . North assistant coach Dean Saulliere, (kneeling) explains strategy to players Tom Krell and Dave Backes.

Heavy Work Ends For North Squad

. . . SHRINE BOWL NEARS

Fremont (AP)—Head coach Harold Chaffee of Sidney called a halt to heavy practice for his North Shrine Bowl All-Star football squad Wednesday and said his players were in good shape.

The North team plays the South in Lincoln Saturday afternoon in the annual charity game.

Chaffee ran his boys through the final pre-game contact drills Wednesday, working on both offense and defense.

He said he would take no chances on injuries in Thursday and Friday workouts, which will be used to polish plays and timing.

The coach said he was impressed Wednesday with the work of Marv Mueller, Columbus halfback; Al Macevicius, Creighton Prep tackle; Ken Pelan, Omaha Tech tackle, and John Smolen, Creighton Prep guard.

Smolen is rounding into shape after being sidelined with injuries.

Chaffee also commented on the leadership ability and hustle of Lew Garrison, quarterback from Omaha Tech.

The coach said he looks for a wide open game after the teams get loosened up Saturday.

'T' FOR TROUBLE . . . South players Larry Tiedje, (left) and LaVern Troudt prep for Saturday clash with North at Memorial Stadium on NU campus.

Phillies Dump Cubs, 9-5

. . . COVINGTON'S DOUBLE SPARKS WIN

Philadelphia (AP)—Wes Covington's two-run, pinch-hit double triggered a five-run eighth inning uprising that gave the Philadelphia Phillies a 9-5 victory over Chicago Wednesday night and built their National League lead to six games.

The key victory, coupled with San Francisco's fourth straight loss, 7-1 to Cincinnati, added another length to the Phillies' growing lead over the second-place Giants.

The Cubs had snapped a 4-4 tie in the top half of the eighth, scoring on singles by Joey Amalfitano, Billy Williams and Ron Santo, who earlier capped Chicago's four-run third inning uprising with a three-run homer.

The Phillies struck back immediately with Clay Dalrymple and Tony Taylor rifling singles before Covington came up and doubled off the right center field wall, putting the Phillies ahead 6-5.

Relief pitcher Jack Baldschun then walked and another run scored on Cookie Rojas' sacrifice fly. John Callison's single and a walk to Richie Allen loaded the bases before a passed ball and Frank Thomas' sacrifice fly brought in the final runs.

The Cubs jolted Jim Bunning for four runs in the third. Andre Rodgers walked and when Chicago pitcher Dick Ellsworth bunted both runners were safe as first baseman Thomas failed to tag Ellsworth on the play. Two outs later, Williams singled home the first run and Santo followed with his 24th homer.

The Phillies got a run back in the fourth on a triple by Alex Johnson and Taylor's infield hit, then tied it in the sixth. Singles by Allen, Thomas and Johnson accounted for one run before Ellsworth issued bases-loaded walks to Ruben Amaro and Rojas, forcing in two more runs.

Nellie Saves Colts With Late Safety

Houston (AP)—Nellie Fox' two-out single in the 10th inning drove in Al Spangler with the winning run, lifting Houston to an 8-7 victory over St. Louis Wednesday night.

Spangler singled with two out and continued to second when center fielder Curt Flood bobbled the ball. Gordon Richardson replaced Barney Schultz, and Fox rifled a single to center, scoring Spangler.

Pascual Family's Move To U.S. 'Dream Come True' For Camilo

. . . PAPER WORK ONLY BARRIER

Washington (AP) — Camilo Pascual, top pitcher for the Minnesota Twins, hailed the news that his family would soon be in this country from Cuba Wednesday with the comment "it is a dream come true."

Camilo's father and mother, along with a sister and her husband, and his wife's sister and husband, are now in Mexico City awaiting final clearance of papers to permit them to enter the United States.

Pascual signed papers at the State Department Tuesday as part of the transactions, then pitched the Twins to a 6-1 victory over the Washington Senators in a night game.

Pascual went up to the capitol Wednesday to stop in at the office of Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., and said "without the help of the senator, it would have been impossible for the family to have left Cuba.

"This is terrific, a wonderful thing.

"I thought that I might not ever see them again. I have been working with Sen. Humphrey's office for a year to get them out of Cuba."

The big right-hander said, in discussing the family's flight from Cuba, that it had been four years since he had seen any of them.

Pascual said that when he left Cuba in 1960, he was afraid to return to that country "because I might not get out again."

So long as Fidel Castro is running Cuba, Pascual said, it would be impossible to return to his homeland.

Pascual said that his family will fly, within a few days, from Mexico City to Miami and will stop over there for a while with a brother, Carlos Pascual, a scout for the Minnesota club.

After that, he said, the family will go to Minneapolis where Camilo has a home.

Pascual said he has applied for United States citizenship.

'Etiquette' Rule Costs Mad Dog Belt

Billy Red Cloud scored a disqualification win over Baron Otto Von Krupp Tuesday night at Pershing Auditorium but the German meanie still holds claim to the Nebraska State Championship.

Red Cloud was awarded the verdict by referee Tom Novak after Von Krupp tossed the Indian over the top ring rope — a violation of rassling etiquette.

Red Cloud was going for the third and deciding fall before a crowd of 1,800 fans and was about to apply an Indian catupult when the German reversed the tactic and flipped Red Cloud over the rope.

Red Cloud had won the second fall with the hold in which he posts himself atop the other grappler's shoulders and catapults head over heels to the canvas.

Von Krupp won the opening fall by reversing the tide after nearly being pinned to press the Indian's shoulders for the three-count.

Mad Dog Vachone won the last two falls to take a come-from-behind victory over newcomer Cowboy Jack Lonza. The falls were even at one each when Cowboy Jack and Mad Dog both went through the ring ropes with the cowboy suffering a knee injury.

Mad Dog used the lame knee to force Cowboy Jack to submit.

Tigers Pound Out 5-2 Win Over LA

. . . DETROIT NOW IN 4TH

Detroit (AP) — Don Demeter's pinch-hit single with two out in the seventh inning scored Bill Freehan with the tie-breaking run as the Detroit Tigers downed the Los Angeles Angels 5-2 Wednesday night.

The victory, which went to starting pitcher Joe Sparma, enabled the Tigers to take over fourth place.

Jim Fregosi's home run off the left field foul pole in the top of the seventh had knotted the score at 2-2.

A walk and Bill Freehan's single set the Angels' Aubrey Gatewood from the mound. Bob Lee got the next two batters, but Demeter batted for Sparma and singled to center, scoring Freehan with the go-ahead run.

Norm Cash hit a two-run homer for the Tigers in the eighth.

Al Kaline homered in the first inning to give the Tigers their first run, and they scored again in the fourth when Jerry Lumpe tripled and rode home on Gates Brown's sacrifice fly.

The Angels scored their first run in the third inning when Bob Rodgers singled, went to second on an infield out and raced home on Gatewood's single.

Robinson Blasts Pair For Cincy

San Francisco (AP) — Frank Robinson, involved in a near brawl in the first inning, slammed two home runs and Chico Ruiz lashed four hits, leading Cincinnati to a 7-1 victory over San Francisco Wednesday in a wild game dotted by four hit batters.

The Giants' fourth straight loss, coupled with Philadelphia's 9-5 victory over Chicago, dropped San Francisco six games behind the National League leading Phillies. The third-place Reds, meanwhile, moved to within one game of the Giants.

Bob Purkey stymied the Giants on six hits, evening his record at 7-7. The Giants played without Willie Mays in the starting line-up. Manager Al Dark said the League's home run leader was removed from the line-up for a rest.

Kaat Wins 13th As Twins Defeat Washington By 3-1

Washington (AP)—Jim Kaat, with relief help from Al Worthington, posted his 13th victory Wednesday night as the Minnesota Twins defeated Washington 3-1 for their sixth straight triumph.

Kaat, who has lost six games, left in the ninth inning after he walked Don Leppert and gave up a single to Dick Phillips with one out.

Worthington was greeted by Jim King's run-scoring single, but the reliever then got the next two Senators.

The Senators loaded the bases in the fourth inning and put two men on in the sixth, but both times Kaat got Don Leppert for the last out.

The Twins scored in the first inning on a bases-loaded walk to Bob Allison. They added two more in the third off loser Dave Stenhouse on Don Mincher's double, a walk to Allison and run-scoring singles by Zoilo Versalles and Gerry Zimmerman.

Nicklaus, Arnie Meet Favorites

. . . AT AKRON

Akron, Ohio (AP)—A talent-loaded field headed by Arnold Palmer combats the always tough Firestone Country Club course beginning Thursday in the 72-hole American Golf Classic.

Since the inauguration of the Classic four years ago, Firestone's four-round par of 280 has been cracked only four times.

Jay Hebert, who captured the 1960 PGA title with a 281 on this course, came back and won the first Classic in 1961 in a sudden-death playoff with Gary Player. Both had 278s.

Palmer won the event with 276 in 1962, and Johnny Pott took down the top prize of $9,000 with a 276 last year. First place has been cut down to $7,500 this year.

Palmer has been the most consistent player over the 7,165-yard layout. He shot a 281 in 1961 and finished second to Pott last year, matching par with a 280.

Jack Nicklaus, the leading money winner on the tour with $96,217, has found the course much to his liking. He has won the 36-hole World Series of Golf here the last two years, earning $50,000 each time.

Palmer, the Masters winners will be surveying the course for the September 12-13 World Series of golf, as will National Open champion Ken Venturi, PGA champion Bobby Nichols and British Open champion Tony Lema.

The field consists of 88 pros and six amateurs.

Health Key To Buffalo's Chances

. . . McDOLE TO SEE DUTY AT END

Eighth Of A Series

Buffalo, N.Y. (AP) — Coach Lou Saban counts on the running of a healthy Cookie Gilchrist and Wray Carlton and the passing of Jack Kemp to keep his Buffalo Bills in the thick of the race in the American Football League's Eastern Division.

"This should be the best club I've had," said Saban, who is starting his third year as head man. "Our main problem last year was losing key men like Carlton, Gilchrist and Dick Hudson for most of the season. Our offensive line should be better and our running game should be improved. We have added some young men who will help us on defense."

The Bills have a secret weapon in Pete Gogolak, the Hungarian refugee from Cornell who kicks field goals from a 45-degree angle, soccer-style. Gogolak booted a 57-yard field goal in the Bills' first exhibition game and thinks he can do better.

Kemp, with Daryle Lamonica to back him up, will do the passing to split end Bill Miller, flanker Elbert Dubenion and tight end Ernie Warlick.

Gilchrist, reportedly sound again, is ready to carry the heavy burden at fullback, with Carlton, a 6-foot-2, 220-pounder, at running back. Leroy Jackson, ex-Washington Redskin, is behind Carlton.

Saban is high on two rookie defense linemen, Harrison (Hatch) Rosdahl of Penn State and Tom Keating of Michigan. Both are potential defensive ends. Jim Dunaway and Tom Sestak at the tackles are topflight. The ends are Roland McDole and Tom Day.

John Tracey, Harry Jacobs and Mike Stratton are the regular line-backers with Paul Maguire, former San Diego player, as reserve and also punter.

Favorites Advance In Women's U.S. Amateur

Hutchinson, Kan. (AP)—Favorites Jo Anne Gunderson and Barbara McIntire won their first round matches in the U.S. Women's Amateur Golf Tournament Wednesday.

Polly Riley of Fort Worth, often a player but never a winner in this tourney, lost to Mrs. Pete Dye of Indianapolis, 3 and 2.

Peggy Conley, a Spokane, Wash., schoolgirl who won the U.S. junior amateur last week, became ill with a stomach virus and withdrew after playing three holes. Mrs. Scott Probasco of Chattanooga, Tenn., was 3 up in the match when she won by default.

Miss Conley was uncomfortable but not seriously ill and returned immediately to a private residence where she is staying here. She said she hoped to see some of the matches later in the week.

Miss Gunderson, three-time winner from Seattle, defeated Jean Ashley of Colorado Springs, 6 and 5. Miss McIntire, the 1959 winner from Colorado Springs, ended her match with Sharon Miller of Battle Creek, Mich., on the 16th hole, 3 and 2.

Barbara White of Shreveport, La., and Nancy Roth of Elkhart, Ind., posted the first sub-par rounds of the tournament. Miss White won 1 up and ended the match with a 71-two under par for the 6,001-yard Prairie Dunes Country Club course. Miss Roth posted a 72.

Mrs. Philip Cudone of Montclair, N.J., a former Curtis Cup player, lost 3 and 2 to Gloria Ehret of Danbury, Conn.

It was the first day of match play. The second round was scheduled for the afternoon.

Halas Concerned About Indifferent Bear Showings

Rensselaer, Ind. (AP)—Coach George Halas expressed concern Wednesday over what he called an indifferent performance of his Chicago Bears in their training camp workouts.

"The team is not physically or mentally ready for Saturday night's game against the Green Bay Packers," Halas said.

The Bears are defending National Football League champions.

Lehigh Wins Twice

Lehigh's football team won the first Lambert Cup, emblematic of Eastern gridiron supremacy, in 1957 and was first to win second in 1961. Athletic Director William B. Leckonby coached both teams.

Stock Car Driver Dies Of Injuries Received In Crash

Westwood, N.J. (AP)—Stock car driver Robert Kruger of Montvale, N.J., died Tuesday at Pascack Valley Hospital of injuries he received in a racing accident Aug. 8 in Middletown, N.Y.

Known in racing circles as Dee Dee, the 32-year-old Kruger suffered a concussion when his car collided with another racer, spun out of control and crashed.

Funeral services will be held here at 10 a.m. Friday.

Pairings Set For LCC Gals' Semis

The semifinal round of the Lincoln Country Club Junior Girls' Club Championships will begin today at 9:00 a.m.

The pairings:

Championship flight—9:00: Mary Cunningham vs. Patty Sconyers; 9:05: Carol Deeder vs. Chris Hoyt.

First flight—9:10: Kristi Joy vs. Susan Pegler; 9:15: Pam Edwards vs. Sydney Whitehead.

Second flight—9:20: Lesley Whitehead vs. Barbara Chapin; 9:25: Lynn Chapin vs. Susan Cunningham.

Second flight consolation—9:30: Leslie Pegler, Susie Simon, Helen Greer.

Knicks Will Be Tall

The New York Knickerbockers will have height next season. They have signed Willis Reed, 6-foot-10 star from Grambling College in Louisiana. He is 22.

Indians Top Kansas City

Cleveland (AP)—Vic Davalillo drove in three runs with a third inning single, helping Cleveland to a 6-4 victory over Kansas City Wednesday night.

Davalillo's single broke a 2-2 tie. The Indians loaded the bases with two out on walks to Dick Howser, Leon Wagner and Tito Francona. Then, with all runners moving on a 3-2 pitch, Davalillo hit to right field, sending all three home.

Joe Azcue drove in two runs for the Indians. He singled across Leon Wagner, who had walked, in the second, and did the same in the fifth.

The Athletics took a 2-0 lead in the second on a force play and a single by Nelson Mathews. Jim Gentile hit his 22nd home run, leading off the fourth, and Kansas City scored its last run in the fifth on Rocky Colavito's' sacrifice fly.

McKinley-Ralston Team Climbs In National Meet

Chestnut Hill, Mass. (AP) — Chuck McKinley and Dennis Ralston kept rolling in the National Doubles Tennis Championships at Long Cricket Club Wednesday, but the top-rated team in the opposite side of the draw-Marty Riessen and Clark Graebner—came close to defeat.

The would-be upsetters were Californians Rod Susman and Charly Rombeau, 21, who led Riessen of Evansont, Ill., and Graebner of Beachwood, Ohio, 2-1 in sets as the match went into the evening.

Then Graebner and Riessen—both, named to the U.S. Davis Cup squad Tuesday tightened up their games to win, 6-3, 3-6, 9-11, 6-3, 6-2, and move into the quarter-finals.

McKinley and Ralston, yet to be tested, finished off a rain-interrupted Tuesday match in the morning, winning the last game in a 6-0, 6-2, 6-3, decision over Paul Sullivan of Belmont, Mass., and Ted Hosha of Winchester, Mass.

A couple of hours later, Chuck and Denny—guardians of the Davis Cup — eliminated Aussie Brian Tobin and 17-year-old South African Ray Moore, 6-4, 6-4, 6-2.

Cliff Buchholz from St. Louis and Butch Newman from San Antonio qualified to face Ralston and McKinley in one of Thursday's quarters by beating Jimmy Parker of Creve Coeur, Mo., and Jim Buck of Los Angeles, 6-3, 6-3, 4-6, 7-5.

Don't worry about the left arm, advises pro Rick Famlin, in the current Golf magazine. Instead of holding the club a little tighter in an attempt to keep the left arm straight, apply less left hand pressure and acquire a sense of feel. Learn to swing the club in your own tempo and, if the basics are in tune and your swing coordinated, your left arm will straighten out when it should.

Muddy Fields Drawing Big Farm Crowd To Gage Co. Fair

By DEAN TERRILL
Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Beatrice—What's the fairest weather for the County Fair? Gage County officials cry "foul."

Board Secretary Vern Mulig, however, would prefer the moisture the day before fair opening—say about .85 like that which came Monday. It not only is bringing in more farmers from muddy fields, but they come smiling.

"Only some of them did say we should move up to July every year, the way we usually scare up a shower," grinned the veteran secretary. He and Board President Claude Bartlett are teamed as top men of the midway.

A record number of ribbon-seekers in "most every department" is giving a "biggest ever" look to the seven-year-old ground. Animal-scrubbing 4-Hers all but overflowed the facilities even with an open-air livestock barn just completed and three other buildings nearly new.

A run down by County Agent Vic McClure includes 150 4-H beef entries and 84 in the dairy division, plus 22 saddle horses where only eight were shown in 1963.

Open classes also are up, brightened even by seldom-seen Belgian horses.

First day activities included a record 100 home demonstrations, ranging from food to first aid photography. Home Extension Agent Gwen Cooper was especially pleased to have 304 of the counties' 321 4-H girls in some phase of the fair.

Ninety of the misses — another record—will appear in Thursday afternoon's dress revue. The traditional Parade of Champions is scheduled that night, followed by a talent find and fireworks.

The rain did force cancellation of Tuesday afternoon's grandstand opener, the pony trotting races which are also billed for Thursday afternoon. By evening, however, the quarter mile track was in shape for an auto-thrill show and for stockcar races Wednesday and Friday night.

Did the mud mean extra work for young exhibitors in cleaning up their livestock entries?

"Aw, we'd have to wash them all anyway" said Odell's Darrell Vitosh. "That's just part of the fair."

West's GOP Candidates For Governor Meet

Denver (AP) — Republican candidates for governor from states west of the Mississippi River opened a strategy session in Denver Wednesday to develop techniques which they hope will place them in state houses at the November election.

The chairman of the Republican Governors Association, Gov. Robert Smylie of Idaho, summed up the aim of the meeting by saying: "We will hunt ducks where the ducks are."

Seven Democratic governors in the nation won by less than 3% the vote in their states the last time they were elected, Smylie said.

The Denver meeting follows one held in Pittsburgh for gubernatorial candidates east of the Missouri River.

Smylie said issues to be discussed at the closed-door session included taxes and fiscal responsibility, elementary and college education, highway construction, public health and conservation.

These issues, he observed, are common to all states.

Use of natural resources for recreation and air and water pollution problems, he said, are growing in importance.

"The man from Paducah," Smylie commented, "is just as interested in a place to camp as the man from Idaho."

Much of the session will be devoted to campaign techniques and organization, including fund raising.

Russ-Indonesia Credit

Jakarta, Indonesia (AP) — The Soviet Union will deliver $5 million worth of equipment for the development of Indonesia's land, sea and air transports, Antara News Agency reported. The official agency said nine contracts recently were signed by Soviet and Indonesian officials for such deliveries on a long-term credit basis. No other details were given.

Congo Rebel Leader Presumed Dead

PIERRE MULELE

Leopoldville (UPI) — The Congolese government Wednesday announced the "presumed death" of Pierre Mulele, Peking-trained Rebel leader who had told his warrior army he was immortal.

Premier Moise Tshombe said Wednesday night he believed a decomposed body found in Kwilu Province was that of Mulele.

"In front of a hut in the Kwilu area a decomposed body was found yesterday with a passport and other documents," Tshombe told a press conference. "I believe this to be Mulele's body."

Mulele, the man who sparked the now massive rebellion against the central government, has been reported missing for several weeks.

Tshombe's military aide showed newsmen a radio set said to have been found among the personal effects near the body. The set was slightly damaged.

Discrepancy

There was a discrepancy between the government announcement and Tshombe's subsequent press conference statement. The government said that belongings believed those of Mulele—but no body—were found in the jungles of the Bakavu area near the Burundi border. The Kwilu district where Tshombe said the body was found is about 700 air miles from Bakavu.

There was no immediate explanation for the conflicting reports. Communications are poor and sometimes virtually non-existent in the Congo, a country which is about 1,000 miles wide.

The reported death of Mulele, leader of an army of 15,000 men, came as the government began expelling nationals from the neighboring countries of Burundi and the former French Congo in retaliation for support those nations have allegedly given insurgents. At least 25,000 persons were affected.

G. Mennen Williams, U.S. undersecretary of state for African affairs, left neighboring Brazzaville Wednesday en route home, ending a six-day visit in which he promised more U.S. aid to Premier Moise Tshombe.

U.S. embassy sources said they were heartened by developments as government forces appeared to be gaining the upper hand for the first time in months.

There was some speculation that Mulele might have slipped across the border into Burundi where the Chinese Communist embassy was said to be financing his anti-government activities.

Mulele and Gaston Soumilot, another disciple of Communist China, had been the most prominent rebels in current fighting against the Congo government. Mulele, about 40, was the first man to start a terrorist war in black Africa along communist lines.

By mixing mystical tribal beliefs with communist ideology, Mulele welded a native army in Kwilu, the Congo's rich agricultural state. A cornerstone of his teaching was that he and his troops were immortal.

Money Bill Includes Cash For Leukemia

Washington (AP)—One of the last big money bills of this session, carrying $7,080,190,000 for the Welfare Department and other agencies and purposes, received voice vote passage by the Senate Wednesday.

The Welfare Department's $6,482,183,000 share of the bill includes a special $10 million fund for what its sponsors said may be "an exciting breakthrough" in the National Cancer Institute's war against the killing disease, leukemia of childhood.

The bill also finances the Labor Department and a half dozen smaller agencies for the current fiscal year, and provides a vast program of grants to the staes, plus $265,000 to pay for arrangements for the 1965 presidential inaugural ceremonies.

The totals are $173,130,000 above the amounts voted by the House, and a whopping $1.093 billion more than the departments and agencies received in the fiscal year which ended June 30.

'REDUCED INTEREST BOOSTS ECONOMY'

Washington (AP) — A group headed by economist Leon H Keyserling suggested Wednesday that reducing interest rates to 1952 levels would stimulate the economy and save the federal government $27 billion in borrowing costs over the next seven years.

The Conference on Economic Progress, a nonprofit organization that includes labor leaders, industrialists and heads of farm cooperatives, blamed the Federal Reserve Board for a substantial increase in interest rates over the past 14 years.

The 89-page report did not attribute the interest rate increase to recent Republican or Democratic administrations. It concentrated its fire on the board and recommended that the board's actions be subject to closer control of Congress and the president.

Four-Year Terms

One of the recommendations calls for four-year terms for board members instead of the present 14-year terms. The chairman's term would end in the same year as that of the President, so that every President could appoint his own chairman.

In addition, Keyserling, former top economic adviser to President Harry S. Truman, and other members of the panel suggested that the president and Congress be given authority to assure a steady expansion of the money supply.

The report noted that William M. Martin had been chairman since the late 1940s, and it said his economic views conflicted with those of two presidents during that period.

The group estimated that the federal government would save $3.3 billion in 1964 if interest rates were reduced to 1952 levels. This cost was described as "the one great waste in the federal budget."

6% Increase

In the first five months of 1964, the report said, interest rates increased 6% on long-term bonds and 22% for issues maturing in 9 to 12 months. The increase was measured from interest rates in the first five months of 1963.

Since 1952, interest rates on treasury bills — the government's short-term issues — had gone up from about 2% to approximately 3.5%.

Keyserling, usually described as a liberal, has long advocated greater emphasis on increased buying power for the consumer and less empasis on providing funds for investment.

The report contended that the 1964 income tax cut had failed in its objective of stimulating the economy and reducing unemployment. And the group implied that more of the tax reduction should have been granted to individuals rather than business.

Economists Note Outlook: 'Tax Cut Probable'

Washington (UPI) — Top White House economists who have watched the U.S. economy since World War II told President Johnson Wednesday the economic outlook is rosy and there are prospects of another tax cut on the horizon.

Johnson brought together present and past chairmen of the White House Council of Economic Advisers — including those who served under Presidents Truman and Eisenhower — for a "wide variety of views" to guide policy decisions on the economy.

Shortly before the meeting he signed into law a bill establishing a 14-member commission to report to the President on the role of automation and technological change in U.S. industry. The commission, not yet named, will include four representatives of labor and four of industry.

"Automation is not our enemy," he told those assembled for the bill-signing. "Our enemies are ignorance and indifference and inertia."

Johnson also met with 5,000 college students who have spent the summer working in government offices and told them he believed, "This generation of young Americans is a commited generation."

Today's youth, he said, has "a rendezvous with peace."

Walter W. Heller, present chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, said he and the past chairmen generally agreed that the present economic picture and outlook both are good and that this year's $11.5 billion tax cut is doing its job of stimulating business.

Former chairmen present for the unusual gathering were Edwin G. Nourse and Leon H. Keyserling, who served under President Harry S. Truman, and Arthur F. Burns and Raymond J. Saulnier who served under President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

1st Civil Rights Penalties Given

. . . UNDER NEW LAW

United Press International

A federal judge found a St. Augustine, Fla., motel manager and a deputy sheriff guilty of contempt Wednesday and handed out the first penalties under the now civil rights law.

U.S. District Judge Bryan Simpson, sitting in Jacksonville, Fla., ordered deputy Charles Lance Jr. to pay $200 in attorneys fees and resign from the sheriff's department. He directed motel manager William Chew to pay $400 in attorneys fees and to file a writ of compliance with Simpson's injunction upholding the civil rights law.

A dynamite blast rocked a Negro neighborhood on the outskirts of the east Tennessee college town of Jefferson City before dawn Wednesday. No one was injured but the blast shattered windows in surrounding homes and dug a three-foot crater.

Mayor Everett Moyers said the explosion could have been the result of recent racial troubles, or labor difficulties experienced by a manufacturing plant.

Authorities Investigate

Jefferson City authorities and FBI agents are investigating.

In other racial developments in the South, a Negro church was found burned in a rural area near Meridian, Miss., and a federal judge at Oxford ordered Clarksdale, Miss. school officials to present one basic plan for desegregating classrooms.

The judge, Claude Clayton, said he would determine at a later hearing when integration would start in the Mississippi delta town.

The Clarksdale school board has formulated four separate plans.

IT'S CLEAR SHE'S FOR LBJ

Fram Weinstock, of Philadelphia, makes it quite clear who she is for in the upcoming Democratic Convention at Atlantic City, N.J. Frani is all decked out with souvenir pins and a ten-gallon Texas hat at the Convention Hall where preparations for the convention entered the final lap.

Campaign In Readiness Under Noted Leaders

Washington (AP) —The Democratic presidential campaign is well organized and ready-to-go under a split level high command of Johnson men and Kennedy men teamed up to make it roll.

The Democratic National Committee is the focal point for direction and the campaign boss — at the next level below President Johnson himself — will be John M. Bailey.

Bailey is the old pro from Connecticut, and the choice of the late President John F. Kennedy for national chairman. And he is Johnson's choice as holdover chairman at least through the November election.

But at his side and splitting a good bit of the responsibility with him is Clifton C. Carter, a rangy Texan like Johnson but not as inclined to talk.

Helped In Elections

Since 1944 Carter has pitched in to help Johnson in elections. He worked for him as administrative assistant when Johnson was vice president. Then he moved to the national committee in January and now has the title of campaign coordinator.

After Bailey and Carter, most of the top level strategists will be Kennedy men, such experts as Kenneth O'Donnell and Lawrence F. O'Brien.

These two had major roles in the 1960 Kennedy campaign, came into the White House with Kennedy as top assistants, and now will be shifting to the national committee, In fact, they already have on a part-time basis.

Picking up a bit of Kennedy strategy, they are going to select campaign coordinators in the states to work closely with national headquarters, now lodged in the national committee. Some of these will be prominent figures.

Persons familiar with the prospects say the coordinators might include in the South, for example, such men as Govs. Farris Bryant of Florida and Carl Sanders of Georgia or Sen. Olin D. Johnston of South Carolina and the governor or one of the senators in North Carolina.

Dispute Of Seating Studied By Lyndon

Washington (AP) — President Johnson is considering three possible courses of action in the flaring dispute over seating Mississippi delegates to the Democratic National Convention.

Party officials with whom the President has discussed the potential threat of a boycott by some other Southern delegations if Mississippi regulars are not seated, said Wednesday they expect a decision from Johnson within the next two days.

The three courses of possible action include:

—Seating no delegations from Mississippi and Alabama. The latter state's group could be barred on the grounds that the 1956 "loyalty oath" provision of convention rules—which still is in effect—has not been complied with.

Seat Regulars

—Seating both the "regular" delegation and representatives of the Negro-dominated Democratic Freedom Party from Mississippi and letting the Alabama delegation go unchallenged.

—Inquiring of delegates on the issue of whether they intend to support the national ticket headed by Johnson in the general election. Those who would not pledge such support would be denied credentials and their places filled by others who would.

Johnson was represented as proceeding on the basis that he does not want to ban any potential delegate to the convention if some way can be found to avoid such action.

Gov. John McKeithen of Louisiana has said he would ask his state's delegation to refrain from taking part in the proceedings in circumstances of being banned.

Sen. Russell B. Long, a member of the Louisiana delegation, said in an interview he has decided against attending the Atlantic City meeting. But he said that if there is a boycott, his state's delegation is certain to split and several of its members remain seated.

Denied Seats

Administration leaders said Mississippi regulars could be denied seats on the grounds that they had postponed any decision on the naming of a slate of electors until Sept. 9.

Although the whole controversy revolves around civil rights, there is nothing in the convention rules which would bar a delegation merely because it is segregated. The Mississippi regulars all are white.

Alabama is held by party leaders to be clearly in violation of the convention rules that require adherence to the party ticket. Gov. George C. Wallace sponsored a legislative act earlier in the year barring any electors pledged to Democratic national presidential and vice presidential nominees from the November ballot.

But the electors also were instructed not to vote for a Republican. Thus the Alabama delegation might be seated if it is not challenged formally.

Before Credentials

The whole controversy, including delegate challenges in some other states and territories, will go before the credentials committee, headed by former Gov. David L. Lawrence of Pennsylvania, later in the week.

Convention officials think that before then they will have from Johnson a decision on the course he wants pursued.

Standards Reflect View Safety Need Removed

Washington (AP)—The long-awaited new government standards for protection against radioactive fallout will reflect the view that the year-old limited nuclear test ban treaty removed the need to set safety levels for atmospheric testing.

Instead, the new standards set, for the first time, specific levels for two fallout situations still possible, but "unlikely," under the treaty—an unprogrammed venting of radioactive materials from still-permitted underground tests or a serious accident involving a nuclear reactor.

The standards and countermeasures in case safety levels are exceeded are recommended by the top-level Federal Radiation Council in a report not yet released by the White House. They apply primarily to radioactive iodine.

The countermeasures would be aimed principally at protecting milk supplies. These include (1) feeding cattle stored feed instead of having them graze on contaminated pastures, (2) holding milk off the market until the radioactive iodine would decay, (3) converting the milk to cheese and other dairy products, so the iodine would decay in the meantime.

Broken Treaty

An authoritative source familiar with the contents declined to say whether the new report makes provisions for steps to be taken in event the test-ban treaty signed last August is broken.

However, for the ordinary protection of the public in a world at least temporarily free of further nuclear weapons testing in the atmosphere, the new report recommends continued dependence on radiation protection guides set up in 1961. These guides were originally devised for workers in atomic energy plants—and require extrapolation to apply them to fallout.

As to why certain of the guidelines in the latest report are merely repetitions of those set in 1961, an authoritative source familiar with the reports's contents told a reporter:

"As soon as the test ban treaty was signed . . . it made a very fundamental shift in the whole approach . . . There was (now) no basic need . . . to indicate specific levels . . . (for the institution of counter-measures against fallout from atmospheric testing) . . ."

New Report

He said the new report—and the guidelines recommended—would reflect these findings and views of the council and others:

1. Present levels of fallout on the earth from all past tests are "too low to warrant public concern about safety."

2. The maximum projection of the fallout of long-living radioactive strontium-90 and cesium-137 to be expected over the next decade or so from bomb-test debris still aloft would still be short of levels requiring countermeasures.

Family Fortunes Of Two Nominees Compared Briefly

Washington (AP)—Here is a comparison in brief of the announced family fortunes of President Johnson and Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater of Arizona:

Total net worth — Johnson and family, $3,484,098. Goldwater and Mrs. Goldwater, approximately $1.7 million.

Individual shares—Johnson $378,081; Mrs. Johnson, $2,126,298; Lynda Bird Johnson, $490,141; Luci Baines Johnson, $489,578. Goldwater, $470,420 in stocks; Mrs. Goldwater, $615,446 in stocks and bonds. Other major assets not listed by individual.

Paving Plant Equipment Bids Taken Under Study By City

Three bids on dust-collecting and washing equipment for the city's paving repair asphalt plant at 15th and X were received Wednesday.

Purchasing Agent Wayne Harvey said the bids were under study. The project was readvertised after a previous single bid was over the estimate.

Bids on the dust collector and washer were: The Day Company, Minneapolis, Minn., $3,366 and no bid on washer; Allington & Curtis Co., Saginaw, Mich., $3,474 and $605.85; and Lewis Welding & Engineering Co., Marion, O., $5,168 and $524.82.

In other bidding, International Harvester was apparently low at $4,374 to furnish a tilt-cab truck for the city water department, compared with Misle Chevrolet, $4,717, and O'Shea Rogers Motor Co., $5,433.75.

Dobson Bros. Construction Co. was apparent low at $33,962.20 for Paving District 1940 on Garfield from Folsom to Trimble and Ricketts from Garfield to A. Pioneer Paving Co. bid $34,906.30.

Kremlin Chill Stopped Mao, Reports Say

London (UPI)—Diplomatic reports indicated Wednesday the Kremlin has frustrated for some time to come any plans Red China may have had for showdown with the United States over the retaliatory attack on Communist North Viet Nam.

Reports reaching here from Peking said the Chinese communists are "cooling off" and ostensibly have shelved plans for any major military moves following the U.S. North Vietnamese incidents in the Gulf of Tonkin early this month.

A key reason for the Peking attitude is the Soviet Union's aloofness in the recent Southeast Asia crisis, the reports said. The Kremlin has shown an apparent unwillingness to help China politically or militarily.

The reports cautioned that China, smarting under the inability to react forcefully to the recent American retaliatory raid, is not likely to forget.

But instead of open intervention, the Peking regime, to all appearances, is resigned to a strategy of limited assistance to the Vietnamese reds with arms, planes and some "volunteers" and advisers.

Diplomatic reports said that as far as can be ascertained, the Peking leadership no longer is under any illusion whatever that the Soviet either would back China's push for big power status or get involved in a war for the greater glory of Mao Tze tung.

Communist China's military means are too limited for any major involvement in war with the United States.

While Peking publicly still holds to its view that the United States is only a "paper tiger" the action in the Gulf of Tonkin appears to have set off second thoughts in high echelons of the Chinese military and political leadership, the reports said.

Enrollment Up In GOP Camp

Columbus (AP) — The director of the Nebraska Young Republican Teen-Age Political Education Camp said Tuesday enrollment is up 50% over last year.

Bill Harding of Lincoln said 64 youngsters checked in Monday for this year's session at Camp Sheldon, compared to 42 last year.

Happy Rockefeller Starts Battle For Children

. . . HAD RELINQUISHED CUSTODY OF FOUR AT DIVORCE

White Plains, N.Y. (UPI) — Mrs. Nelson A. Rockefeller began a court battle Wednesday for the four children of her first marriage, whose custody she relinquished at the time of her divorce.

New York's first lady sent a battery of four lawyers to state supreme court Wednesday morning to defend her petition for "an equitable proceeding on why the custody of the children should not be granted" to her. They asked for an immediate decision.

Her former husband, Dr. James S. Murphy, had three attorneys in court to file a cross order for dismissal of Mrs. Rockefeller's petition on the grounds that it contained only "conclusitory statements and no facts."

Murphy's counsel charged that revision of the custody agreement reached amicably when the then Mrs. Murphy obtained an Idaho divorce to marry the governor in April, 1963, would be a violation of the civil courts act.

Justice Joseph F. Gagliardi said at one point he thought he could make a decision Wednesday afternoon on whether to bring Mrs. Rockefeller's petition to trial, but Murphy's attorney asked him not to.

The hearing confirmed what long has been rumored in political and social circles —that Murphy obtained custody of James, 13, Margaretta, 11, Carol, 8, and Melinda, 4, and his wife settled for visitation rights only. The custody agreement was sealed and never before revealed.

Mrs. Rockefeller's attorney, Edward S. Greenbaum, attacked Murphy for providing "the spectacle of four children coming into court on this kind of argument."

"It just shows what kind of father this is," he said.

Malone chided Greenbaum for "emotional arguments."

'Emotions Out'

"We are not interested in emotions," he said. "If our legal positions are right, emotions have nothing to do with this application."

Neither Mrs. Rockefeller, 36, nor Murphy, 41, attended the hearing.

Friends of Murphy said he feels he made a mistake in leaving the children with Gov. and Mrs. Rockefeller when he and his bride, the former Victoria Thompson, left on an extended honeymoon in May. While he was away, Mrs. Rockefeller decided to take legal action and papers were filed July 17, the day after the GOP convention ended in San Francisco.

Murphy, his friends said, feels he can make an even better home for the children now that he is remarried. His wife, 28, taught his two eldest daughters at the exclusive Chapin School prior to her marriage and is reported devoted to the youngest child.

Rockefeller was divorced by his first wife, Mary Clark Rockefeller, in 1961 after 31 years of marriage and five children. Mrs. Murphy, a member of Rockefeller's office staff from 1959 to 1961, married the governor on May 4, 1963.

The Murphys were married for 15 years. He is a research virologist at the Rockefeller Institute and was appointed by Rockefeller to the state mental hygiene council. The two families had been friends for many years.

No Split Shifts At Omaha Schools

Omaha (AP) — Supt. Paul A. Miller said Wednesday all Omaha public schools will begin classes on schedule and there will be no split shifts.

Dr. Miller emphasized that not all of almost $14 million worth of projects under construction will be completed in time for the Sept. 8 opening, but classroom and other instructional areas will be ready.

All buildings will be fully functioning by midyear, he said.

On July 6, while calling on union and management officials to settle a 36-day-old insulators' strike, Dr. Miller had said split sessions were virtually assured at nine schools.

In a split session, one group of students uses a building in the morning and another group in the afternoon.

INDONESIAN OFFICER CAPTURED IN MALAYSIA

Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia (UPI)—An Indonesian Navy lieutenant was captured Wednesday as government troops tightened a cordon around a strip of mangrove swamps and jungle where the survivors of a terrorist invasion force were believed trapped.

The officer, dressed in civilian clothes and carrying two bags containing a machinegun, a sten gun and several hand grenades, was captured by a Malaysian corporal on a beach near Pontian, a town near the invasion area.

Two other Indonesian-based guerrillas, identified as Chinese, were turned over to police by villagers who became suspicious when the pair failed to give correct answers to questions asked them. The two were believed to be former Malaysian residents.

The defense ministry refused to release figures on the number of invaders captured and still at large. However, compilation from official reports indicates that 2 invaders have been killed, 25 captured and an equal number at large.

The invasion force landed before dawn Monday on the West coast of Johore State at a point 30 miles from the Indonesian island of Sumatra.

Indonesian Foreign Minister Subandrio charged Wednesday in Jakarta that the invasion landings were "mere fabrications" by Malaysian leaders. The Indonesian government news agency Wednesday printed the first reports of the invasion, leading off with Subandrio's denial.

Malaysia's deputy prime minister, Tun Abdul Razak, said he was ordering the mobilization of thousands of adults in "vigilante corps." He told newsmen the captured invaders would be treated as enemies of Malaysia.

"They could be sentenced to death, especially if they were found with arms," he said.

Some of the prisoners were expected to be produced in court within the next few days.

Airman Turns Priest

Wuerzburg, Germany (AP)—A 38-year-old Japanese who once trained to be a Kamikaze airman celebrated his first mass in Wuerzburg as a recently ordained Catholic priest in the Franciscan Order. Father Aois Matsuo will return to Japan to assume pastoral duties.

Stock Market Mixed, Lower

New York (AP)—A mild stock market advance stumbled on late profit taking Wednesday and the list ended with an irregular decline. Trading was moderate.

A feature of the day was increased strength in the cigarette stocks which have been climbing in recent sessions. New buying was drawn to the group by two news items:

The Internal Revenue Service reported that cigarette shipments were rocketing back from the slump that followed the government health report last January linking them to lung cancer and heart disease.

The House Commerce Committee asked for delay in application of the new federal rule requiring all cigarette labels and advertising to warn that smoking is a health hazard.

At the same time, the IRS reported a slump in the shipment of small cigars. The cigar making stocks were dampened.

Steels drifted off as traders took profits. Motor stocks marked time along with the auto labor negotiations.

The list as a whole was a scrambled affair, with losers outnumbering gainers by 578 to 466 among the 1,331 issues traded. New highs for the year totaled 37 and new lows 24.

The Dow Jones industrial average declined 1.07 to 841.76.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell .4 to 316.3 with industrials off .6, rails off .9 and utilities up .4.

Volume was 4.17 million shares compared with 4.21 million Tuesday.

Despite the generally lower trend, gainers outnumbered losers by 9 to 3 among the 15 most active stocks, with three unchanged.

Prices declined irregularly on the American Stock Exchange. Volume was 1.38 million shares compared with 1.41 million Tuesday.

Corporate and U.S. government bonds were mixed.

Soybean Futures' Losses Are Broad

Chicago (AP)—Profit cashers spilled the soybeans for broad losses in a mostly weak grain futures market Wednesday.

Setbacks ran to almost three cents a bushel, wiping out about half the gains of the two previous sessions on most deliveries. The feed grains also eased but wheat and rye firmed.

At the close, wheat was ⅞-1¼ cents a bushel higher, September new grade $1.44⅜-44; corn ⅜-1⅛ lower, September $1.20⅜; oats ⅛-½ lower, September 67¼-¾ cents; rye ¼-⅞ higher, September $1.26¾; soybeans ¾-2⅞ lower, August $2.37¼-½.

LBJ Salutes 'Compassionate, Constructive' 88th Congress

. . . PARTY COMPLETE WITH BROADWAY SHOW

Washington (AP) — President Johnson pulled out all the stops Wednesday night to salute what he termed a constructive, compassionate, cooperative Congress—a Senate and House that have dealt kindly this year with major administration proposals.

Johnson invited all members of the national legislature—Democrats and Republicans—to the back lawn of the White House for dessert, coffee, a specially-produced Broadway show and a personal word of thanks for their efforts in 1964.

In remarks at the gala event, Johnson said:

"This session of Congress has enacted more major legislation—met more national needs—disposed of more national issues—than any other session of this century or the last."

No Stalemate

The President said that the record of the 88th Congress, and its arm-in-arm partnership with the executive branch—that's the phrase he used—"testify to the reassuring fact that there has been this year no stalemate in our system, no deadlock in our democracy."

While depicting the President and Congress as working in tandem, Johnson said that none should suggest or suppose "that debate has been suspended, principles laid aside, or convictions diluted."

He said, "The opposite is much more nearly the case." And he added that full debate, advocacy of principles and devotion to convictions have given strength to the laws enacted in 1964—"laws which stand now more strongly (because of the debate) as the laws of our land."

Citing some of these laws, he mentioned specifically the $11.5 billion tax cut, a series of education measures, a mass transit bill and Senate ratification of the nuclear test ban treaty, the later acted on in 1963.

Compassionate

He said, too, that it has been a compassionate Congress, citing the new civil rights law, extension of the food stamp plan and the anti-poverty program which he will sign into law Thursday.

"And I am happy tosay," he went on, "this has been a cooperative Congress. For these measures and many others have been brought into being by both Republican and Democratic votes."

Almost at the outset of his remarks, he said that he had summoned the Congress members and their ladies to the White House because he wanted "first of all to thank you for myself."

He said, additionally, that he wanted the back lawn party to dramatize what he termed the congressional record of "cooperation and accomplishment" and added:

"I want the American people to be aware of the record you have written and the relationship which exists between us."

Johnson said he believed he and Congress had worked together this year in the way intended by the founding fathers—not "locked in battle with each other but locked arm-in-arm instead, battling for the people we serve together."

Musical Show

A brilliantly-lighted, bunting-draped temporary stage was set up on the White House lawn for a musical extravaganza that was a feature of the "Salute to Congress" party.

Several score singers and dancers were imported from New Yrok to stage the production—music and dances featuring campaign songs of yesteryear that ranged from "Old Abe Lincoln Came out of the Wilderness" to "I Like Ike."

And the singers also were well-rehearsed in a lilting number especially written as a tribute to the 88th Congress—a song with the theme words "jump on the Wagon."

After the formal program Mrs. Johnson invited the guests to join her and the President in a lantern-festooned grove of stately trees "and enjoy talking to each other and have a bite to eat." Newsmen were asked to leave at that point.

Nebraskans Vote With Majority On Reapportionment

Washington (AP) — Nebraska Representatives Glenn Cunningham, Ralph Beermann and Dave Martin voted with the majority Wednesday as the House passed 218 to 175 a bill designed to remove jurisdiction over state legislative reapportionment from the federal courts.

Dope Ring Smashed

Chicago (AP) — Federal narcotics agents arrested six men and seized over $40,000 worth of Mexican - produced heroin and marijuana in what they called "the biggest Mexican dope peddling operation in town."

POLITICAL SUICIDE?

Some political pollsters are saying that Sen. Barry Goldwater (above) is committing political suicide by tackling President Johnson in the November election. Maybe so, but this photo is only an optical illusion, created as the senator spoke at the Illinois State Fair Wednesday. The rope is actually a supporting apparatus that held up the tent over the speakers platform.

NBC Invites Johnson, Barry To 'Meet Press'

New York (AP)—The National Broadcasting Co. Wednesday invited President Johnson and Sen. Barry Goldwater to appear—jointly or separately—in a series of full-hour "Meet the Press" television and radio programs.

The proposal by Robert W. Sarnoff, NBC board chairman, was outlined in identical telegrams to the Republican presidential nominee and to Johnson. He said it was designed as a substitute to actual television debates.

Goldwater could not be reached for comment, but his press secretary, Paul Wagner, said the Republican nominee "would accept on a face-to-face basis only . . ."

"Separate appearances is hardly a debate," Wagner said.

Sarnoff proposed six one-hour programs, two of which would be devoted to appearances by the vice presidential candidates. The prgrams would be scheduled for Sunday between 6 p.m. and 7 p.m. New York time, over the NBC radio and television networks between early September and Election Day.

The programs could be joint appearances, Sarnoff said, or if Johnson and Goldwater preferred, the broadcasts could be divided into two 30-minute segments with the candidates appearing separately.

NBC offered to make the broadcasts available to other networks.

Project To Expand

Jackson, Miss. (AP) — The Council of Federated Organizations (COFO) said the "Mississippi Summer Project" will be expanded and extended into the winter as the "Mississippi Project."

Bartender Dies Of Bullet Wound Suffered In Heist

Omaha (AP) — Joe Kellinghouse, 48-year-old bartender, died Wednesday night of a bullet wound suffered when the Sip-N-Chin bar was held up Tuesday night.

The bullet struck Kellinghouse under the left arm.

Police said the gunman was a young Negro. They said he was in the bar but left when another Negro man and a woman came in, then stepped back and fired at Kellinghouse. The couple then took about $300 from the cash register and all three fled.

SUBURBAN 225 No. 48th 434-5991

1963 Ford
Galaxie Fordor. V8 engine, standard transmission, solid white finish with blue vinyl

By some odd chance of fate, I came out winners over the bank statement this month.

This is so unusual that the banker called in the auditors. I went over the blooming statement myself. Used a little pocket adding machine I keep in my foxy pocket.

No mistake. Turned out I was more solvent than rust remover. This calls for a new line of clear-headed thinking.

☆ ☆ ☆

What I was thinking was I would buy a new car! "A kind of banana-yellow is what I have in mind," I said. "With red leather seats."

I have been puttering through the summer countryside recently. It would be nice to go swinging down the lane in a big butter-colored convertible. White sidewalls. Red seats. Two-tone air horn. Toot-te-toot.

That is clear thinking. Gets money in circulation and is good for the economy. Gets me in circulation. That's good for me.

Good for General Motors. And, as everybody knows, what's good for GM is good for the country.

If it wasn't for people like me, industry would be in sorry shape. The Last of the Big-Time Spenders.

☆ ☆ ☆

You would be surprised how many people heard about this pitiful nest egg and wanted to make it into omelettes.

"Dear Daddy: I hope you are well. Now that my birthday is coming, I thought you would like to know what I want. I do not want clothes—does that surprise you?

"I thought I would do something educational. I intend to stop fooling around and make something of myself. There is this educational tour that goes to Europe . . ."

That is my far-flung daughter. She got the news on the bamboo wireless, I guess. That is a stirring story — "something educational." I am not to be swayed by such tear jerkers.

I think I have enough money for a down payment on a little sailboat. A breezy day and all sails drawing. Wearing one of those crisp yachting caps . . .

☆ ☆ ☆

"Listen to this: 'A private sale begins Monday with a fall showing of several famous European designers . . .'"

This information is fed to me across the breakfast table.

There are some wonderful buys. A person who must buy a fall wardrobe anyway (everything we have is practically in rags) would be foolish not to go down to this private sale. Buy wisely. Buy now.

It is really a saving if you look at it the right way.

I keep trying to look at things the right way. But find my glasses are clouding.

A little old trip to Tahiti would do me a world of good now. Out on that black sand beach. With the ukuleles plunking. A coconut shell full of Martinique rum . . .

There are some people who advise me to pay bills. That is a thought that leaves me cold.

"If at this time you reduce your bank loan, thus increasing credit which, in turn, will reflect on your tax structure under the new tax levels of 1965, your position will be . . ."

The tax levels of 1965 do not interest me. I might not even be here in 1965.

When I think how sorry people would be if I were not here in 1965, tears come to my eyes.

"He was a good man," they'll say. "And how selfish we were! Going on educational tours to Europe. Buying clothes at private sales. Making him pay bills.

I do not want people carrying this burden. Carrying this guilt.

I shall be careful with my nest egg. Not let it ruin other people's lives. Better it should ruin me.

There's this flashy station wagon I was looking at. With a mounted compass and you can get it racked up for fishing equipment . . .
